The periscope and conning tower of the United States submarine Squalus which foundered off Portsmouth, N. H., break water as the submersible is raised from stem to stern, for the first time since salvage operations were begun. Shortly after, the stern of the craft again sank to the ocean bottom. There are 24 dead in the submarine.

MORE FESTIVAL FLOATS LISTED

Band From Fairmount Children's Home To Play Saturday

Additional entries for the Fall Festival parade Saturday afternoon were received today at the Salem Business Bureau, giving assurance that there would be at least 12 floats and four bands in the lineup.

New float entries, competing for the $255 offered in cash prizes, include Perry and Mt. Nebo granges, the Quota club and the Wipash Sunday school class of the Wipash Methodist church.

The Fairmount Children's home band and the Salvation Army band today joined the Salem High school and Columbiana High school bands, which yesterday announced intentions of marching in the parade.

The Salem High band will lead the procession.

The parade will form on E. Pershing st., near Reilly stadium, at 1:30 p. m. Saturday, moving probably at 1:45.

The deadline for filing parade entries is Friday morning, according to Mrs. Elizabeth Baker, Business Bureau secretary.

The festival is sponsored by the American Legion and the Salem Business Bureau, with the following members of the bureau co-operating:

Government Agents Have Been Trained To Stop Espionage

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—A high administration official revealed today that for more than a year agents of the federal bureau of investigation had been receiving intensive secret training in the technique of uncovering espionage, sabotage and subversive activities.

At the same time it was stated the FBI had thrown its counter-espionage machine into high gear during the past two weeks of war in Europe.

Information received at the justice department has increased materially since Attorney General Murphy asked citizens last week to cooperate with the FBI in ferreting out operations of foreign agents, it was said.

J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the FBI, has been in constant touch with officers of the naval and military intelligence units since fighting broke out abroad.

Defense Summons Witnesses After State Ends Case

FREMONT, Sept. 14.—Defense Counsel Ben H. Dewey today summoned 22 character witnesses and an alienist to testify in the first-degree murder trial of Mrs. Velma Baker Fink, 22-year-old Clyde divorcee charged with slaying her 10-week-old son, Haldon.

The state closed its case yesterday after calling 10 witnesses, including four who testified to a confession made by the mother on June 17, four days after the slaying.

Sheriff H. L. Myers, Deputy Ted Paul, Howard G. Robinson of Newark, a lie-detector operator, and Dr. J. C. Boyce told of Mrs. Fink's confession that she dropped the infant into a creek several miles from their Clyde home.

Mrs. Fink sobbed continually as Sheriff Myers related details of her confession quoting her as saying "I was disgusted" with conditions at home, and that her mother "chastized" her for having a date with a young factory worker.

Court attaches estimates the jury of eight women and four men would get the case Friday night or Saturday.

Police Guard Home After Bomb Threat

CINCINNATI, Sept. 14.—Police kept watch today at an apartment building housing the French consulate after a woman resident reported a telephoned threat to blow up the building.

Miss Mabel Hunt said a man told her: "Some of us Americans who don't like the French are going to blow up the place because recruiting is going on there."

Consul Jean Tenhave commented that "people who really intend doing you harm seldom call you up and notify you." He said there had been no call even for French reservists to report for duty.

11,000 IS DAY'S COUNT AT FAIR

Record Attractions Take Huge Throngs To County Seat

LISBON, Sept. 14.—Reminiscent of yesterday, when the county fair was the annual event looked forward to by the populace of this section of the state as a homecoming, the attendance at the Columbiana county fair Wednesday was close to 11,000 persons.

Also exceeding recent fair achievements was the number of remarkable exhibits in many departments, and displays of farm machinery, tractors and implements, approximately 30 tractors being displayed by dealers. Automobile exhibits featuring new 1940 models also were attracting attention.

The crowd began to gather on the grounds early and witnessed one of the greatest horse pulling contests ever staged, and the attendance was augmented throughout the afternoon and evening by thousands of others.

Herbert Is Visitor

These attending the races during the afternoon were fortunate in hearing Attorney General Thomas J. Herbert, who was introduced from the judges stand, and gave a short talk in which he said it was his third visit to the Columbiana county fair, having previously visited the show in 1932 and in 1936.

The racing events proved exceptionally fine this year, and the grandstand audience was treated to special numbers between heats by the Lisbon High school band, and acts by the Klein Super Shows, featuring aerial and trapeze artists, skating specialties, and five fighting lions in a steel arena.

Salem Team Second

Considerable interest was shown in the horse-pulling contest, heavyweight class, at the fairgrounds this morning.

The team of F. H. Dillon of Columbiana, weighing 3,420 pounds, pulled the sled, weighted with 5,750 pounds, a distance of 16 feet.

Redinger brothers of Salem won second honors when their team, weighing 3,150 pounds dragged the sled for a distance of 12 feet and four inches.

Third place was taken by the Fieldhouse brothers of Washington, whose 3,200 pound team pulled the sled one foot and four inches.

Seven teams altogether completed in the heavyweight contest.

Struthers Woman Hurt In Collision

Mrs. S. M. McConnell, 50, of Struthers, suffered from shock as well as a head bump and bruise when the automobile in which she was riding with her husband was struck by a tractor-trailer on Route 46, three and one-half miles north of Canfield, at 2:35 p. m. Wednesday.

Earl Watts, 28, of Wellsville, lost control of the truck after hitting a dump truck, the truck overturned, dumping a load of steel. Watts was uninjured.

According to the state highway patrol, McConnell attempted to make a left turn from the highway and was struck from the rear by the truck.

Berlin Announces City's Surrender After Two Weeks' Siege

ENCIRCLEMENT OF WARSAW GOES ON

Roosevelt Monroe Doctrine Attitude Said To Be Unfair

(By Associated Press)
BERLIN, Sept. 14.—Surrender of the Polish port of Gdynia after a two-weeks' siege was announced today and Germany's eastern army was reported to have made new advances in drives against Warsaw and two other key Polish objectives.

A communique telling of fall of Gdynia, which had been cut off almost since the outbreak of hostilities Sept. 1, said German troops entered the city at 10:15 a. m. (4:15 a. m. EST).

"The Polish commandant surrendered the city," it continued. "North of Gdynia fighting is still going on."

Three Objectives
A communique which told of advances in Poland said 66,000 prisoners had been captured and showed the eastern forces "to be centering on three main maneuvers:

1. Encircling Warsaw completely; 2. Cutting off Lublin from Lwow to prevent such government officials as may still be in Lublin from reaching the south; and 3. Advancing with East Prussian divisions upon Brzesc (Brest-Litovsk) 110 miles east of Warsaw.

Of operations on the western front the communique said that "stronger French forces than hitherto advanced toward German outposts between Saarbruecken and Hornbach, but were 'stopped by mine fields and German defense fire."

A commentary which usually presents the German foreign office opinion today attributed to President Roosevelt, in his interpretation of the Monroe doctrine, an attitude "unfair and unchivalrous, to say nothing of being unneutral."

At the same time observers saw in publication of a German contraband law a warning to the world that German submarines and sea raiders would do their utmost legitimately to prevent war materials and food from reaching Britain and France.

Thirteen From City Enrolled At Mount

ALLIANCE, Sept. 14.—With transfers from a dozen colleges and universities and four new faculty members, Mount Union college launched its 94th year this week with varied class and fraternity and sorority activities for a swelled enrollment. Thirteen Salem students are among the Mount enrollees.

Among the newly instituted courses at the college is one designed to train pilots for civil aeronautics under government supervision. Dr. Forest J. Shollenberger, professor of physics, will be ground instructor, with skilled pilots from Martin Field of Canton in charge of flying instruction.

Salem enrollees include Roger Cope, Richard McConnell, Alton Allen, Mildred Woods, Jane Cope, Ellen Elder, Stewart Elder, Betty Neal, Elsie Woods, Horace Schwartz, Stuart Wise, William Wark, Philip Hively, Winthrop Difore and Dorothy Krauss.

"Flaming Adults"
Push Youth Aside

Miss Ethel Hubler, in a talk at the Baptist church Tuesday afternoon, declared the liquor problem is not with "flaming youth" now, but with "flaming adults."

She explained that too many have taken the attitude that nothing can be done about it. She told of a visit to the Oklahoma state prison, housing nearly 3,000 inmates, where she learned 50 per cent of the prisoners had been sent because of liquor violations and crimes traceable to liquor.

The W. C. T. U. and the Salem Ministerial association sponsored the appearance of the dry leader here. She spoke yesterday in East Palestine.

Map of Latest Moves on the European War Front

This map shows the latest moves on the European war front. Germans driving north between Rawa and Radom (1) and south from East Prussia have been trying to close the bottleneck (2) west of Warsaw. Gdynia (4) was reported to have surrendered today. Russia is mobilizing along the border (2). A back door route (5) exists by which the Allies could send reinforcements to Poland from Egypt and India. On the western front, the French attack (A) through the Moselle valley makes progress into the Saar. German counter attacks on Burgundy Gate invaders (B) were repulsed. French divisions are massed at (C) should Italy interfere. Italian passes (D) leading into Germany have been opened to trainloads of supplies. In the north, the British fleet has bottled up the German navy in the Baltic.

MINISTER DIES AT COLUMBIANA

Rev. Albert W. Harold, 79, Succumbs After Brief Illness

COLUMBIANA, Sept. 15.—Rev. Albert W. Harold, 79, retired Brethren minister, died at 9:15 a. m. Wednesday at his home on the Canfield rd., following four months' illness of complications.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Harold, he was born in Beaver township, Mahoning county, May 18, 1860.

He was married in Columbiana to Mary Elen Wilderson on Oct. 27, 1881. His wife died six years ago. They celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in October 1931.

He attended Juniata college at Huntingdon, Pa., and entered the ministry in 1891, retiring in 1930.

Rev. Harold served during his entire ministry at the Church of the Brethren on the Canfield rd., and at several surrounding churches.

Four daughters and seven brothers preceded him in death.

He is survived by nine children: Robert and William of Leetonia; Oliver, Mrs. E. C. Bassinger and Ester of Columbiana; Mrs. N. F. Prezenger of the home; Mrs. William Wilkinson of Poland; 30 grandchildren and six great grandchildren; and one brother, Joseph, of Columbiana.

Funeral service will be held at 2:30 p. m. Friday at the Church of the Brethren on the Canfield rd., in charge of Rev. G. S. Strausbaugh and other ministers.

The program at Mount Union college will be carried on under the direction of a committee which includes Dean M. W. Hyde, as chairman, Dr. F. J. Shollenberger and K. H. McFall.

Mr. and Mrs. Davies Arrive In New York

Mr. and Mrs. J. Clyde McKee of N. Union ave have received word that their daughter, Mrs. Richard L. Davies, and her husband, of Philadelphia, have arrived safely in New York from England where they were stranded for a short time after the outbreak of war.

Mr. and Mrs. Davies were passengers on the Westernland which docked in New York last night. They are expected to arrive in Salem tomorrow. Mrs. Davies is the former Mary Margaret McKee.

The liner Westernland arrived after an adventurous trans-Atlantic crossing in which the vessel was stopped and boarded by the crew of a British destroyer and flag salutes were exchanged with a German submarine. Among the Westernland's 565 passengers were 328 Americans.

Faces U. S. Charge

LISBON, Sept. 14.—Robert Dutcher of Rogers, arrested by Sheriff Harry L. Gosney Tuesday night in connection with Sunday burglaries at Rogers village, was taken to Cleveland today to appear before federal authorities.

He admitted to Postal Inspector J. Ivey, Jr., of Akron that he broke into and robbed the Rogers post-office.

FRIENDS GREET PHYSICIAN, WIFE

Dr. and Mrs. R. T. Holzbach Arrive In Salem Today After Atlantic Crossing

Dr. and Mrs. R. T. Holzbach arrived in Salem today from New York where they landed yesterday after crossing the Atlantic on the liner Cameronia.

A group of relatives and friends, who maintained a constant interest in their safety after it was reported that they had been aboard the liner Athena when it was torpedoed and sunk off the Irish coast, greeted the Salem physician and his wife on their arrival here.

Dr. and Mrs. Holzbach were listed officially as having been rescued from the ill-fated British liner, but later developments proved they were not aboard the ship.

Mount To Receive Pilot Applications

ALLIANCE, Sept. 14.—Applications are being received at Mount Union college from students interested in the private flying training which is being sponsored by the Civil Aeronautics Authority and the college this year.

Students between the ages of 18 and 24 inclusive are eligible to apply for the flying course. President C. B. Ketcham has announced that the ground instruction will be given by Dr. F. J. Shollenberger, professor of physics. The flight instruction will be given by Harry Renkert at the Martin field between Alliance and Canton.

The program at Mount Union college will be carried on under the direction of a committee which includes Dean M. W. Hyde, as chairman, Dr. F. J. Shollenberger and K. H. McFall.

60 Men Assigned To Firestone Park

Assignment of 60 men to the WPA project at Firestone park in Columbiana to take care of layoffs made several weeks ago, was announced today by George Weinberg, county WPA project engineer, in Lisbon.

The assignments were effective yesterday.

An equal number of WPA workers was put to work on the Fairfield road project, northeast of Lisbon.

The layoffs involved men who had been in 18 months of continuous service of the WPA.

Canada Is Open
To U. S. Tourists

Canada's declaration of war on Germany has not affected the travel of Americans into the Dominion.

Albert P. Morris, manager of the Columbiana County Motor club, was in receipt of a letter today from the Canadian Travel bureau stating that no restrictions have been imposed, or were likely to be placed, on travels of Americans in Canada.

Neither are tourists required to secure Canadian documents in entering or leaving Canada, the letter read.

GERMANS MOVE UP HEAVY ARTILLERY

Reinforcements Concentrating Behind Saar Capital

(By Associated Press)
PARIS, Sept. 14.—French forces, supported by thousands of newly landed British troops, were reported today in military dispatches to be closing in from three sides on Saarbruecken, industrial center of the rich Saar basin.

Seizure of the city, the reports indicated, was considered vital to give the French a jumping off point for a wider attack against the heavily fortified Siegfried line.

Indications the Poles were being hard pressed by concentrated German artillery fire came in an official war communique.

"Strong action by heavy enemy artillery on heights south of Saarbruecken," the communique read.

Nazis Move Up Guns

Reich troops previously were reported moving heavy, long range guns into the battle areas. The position of the firing batteries and the intensity of the shelling were not disclosed.

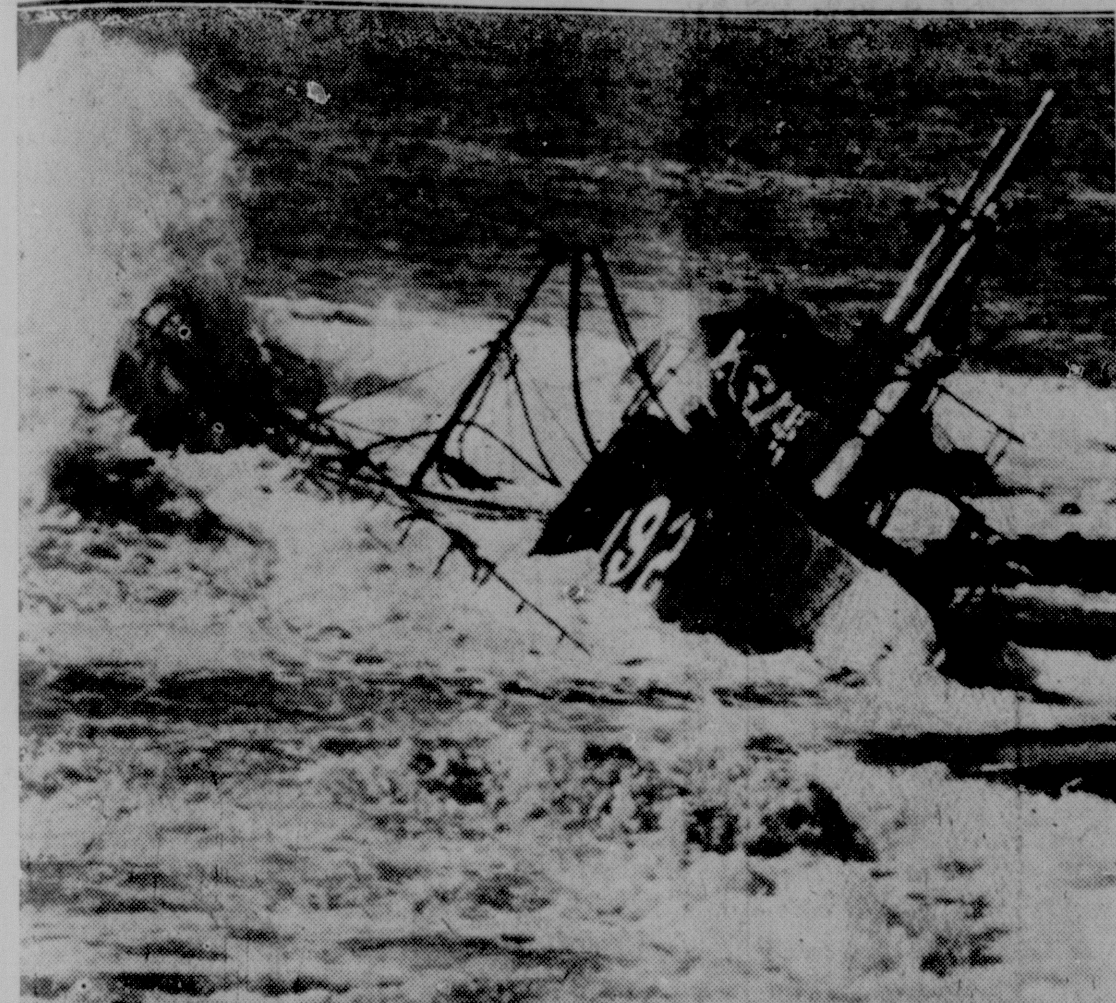

German reinforcements were reported massing behind Saarbruecken to forestall a direct French attack and occupation of the Saar capital.

Heavy fighting was reported near Hornbach as the French troops pushed eastward in an attempted encircling movement.

Rain hampered operations along the 100-mile front between the Moselle and Rhine rivers, but military dispatches spoke of "substantial" gains.

Saarbruecken is located midway on the front net far from the French border.

(By Associated Press)
BERLIN, Sept. 14.—Surrender of the Polish port of Gdynia after a two-weeks' siege was announced today and Germany's eastern army was reported to have made new advances in drives against Warsaw and two other key Polish objectives.

A communique telling of fall of Gdynia, which had been cut off almost since the outbreak of hostilities Sept. 1, said German troops entered the city at 10:15 a. m. (4:15 a. m. EST).

"The Polish commandant surrendered the city," it continued. "North of Gdynia fighting is still going on."

Three Objectives

A communique, which told of advances in Poland said 66,000 prisoners had been captured and showed the eastern forces "to be centering on three main maneuvers:

1. Encircling Warsaw completely;
2. Cutting off Lublin from Lwow to prevent such government officials as may still be in Lublin from reaching the south; and
3. Advancing with East Prussian divisions upon Brzesc (Brest-Litovsk) 110 miles east of Warsaw.

On operations on the western front the communique said that "stronger French forces than hitherto" advanced toward German outposts between Saarbruecken and Hornbach, but were "stopped by mine fields and German defense fire."

A commentary which usually presents the German foreign office opinion today attributed to President Roosevelt, in his interpretation of the Monroe doctrine, an attitude "unfair and unchristian, to say nothing of being unneutral."

At the same time observers saw in publication of a German contraband law a warning to the world that German submarines and sea raiders would do their utmost legitimately to prevent war materials and food from reaching Britain and France.

Thirteen From City
Enrolled At Mount

ALLIANCE, Sept. 14.—With transfers from a dozen colleges and universities and four new faculty members, Mount Union college launched its 94th year this week with varied class and fraternity and sorority activities for a swelled enrollment. Thirteen Salem students are among the Mount enrollees.

Among the newly instituted courses at the college is one designed to train pilots for civil aeronautics under government supervision. Dr. Forest J. Shollenberger, professor of physics, will be ground instructor, with skilled pilots from Martin Field of Canton in charge of flying instruction.

Salem enrollees include Roger Cope, Richard McConner, Alton Allen, Mildred Woods, Jane Cope, Ellen Elder, Stewart Elder, Betty Neal, Elsie Woods, Horace Schwartz, Stuart Wise, William Wark, Philip Hively, Winthrop Dillford and Dorothy Krauss.

"Flaming Adults"
Push Youth Aside

Miss Ethel Hubler, in a talk at the Baptist church Tuesday afternoon, declared the liquor problem is not with "flaming youth" now, but with "flaming adults."

She explained that too many have taken the attitude that nothing can be done about it.

She told of a visit to the Oklahoma state prison, housing nearly 3,000 inmates, where she learned 50 per cent of the prisoners had been sent because of liquor violations and crimes traceable to liquor.

The W. C. T. U. and the Salem Ministerial Association sponsored the appearance of the dry leader here. She spoke yesterday in East Palestine.

Map of Latest Moves on the European War Front

This map shows the latest moves on the European war front. Germans driving north between Rawa and Radom (1) and south from East Prussia have been trying to close the bottleneck (3) west of Warsaw. Gdynia (4) was reported to have surrendered today. Russia is mobilizing along the border (2). A back door route (5) exists by which the Allies could send reinforcements to Poland from Egypt and India. On the western front, the French attack (A) through the Moselle valley makes progress into the Saar. German counter attacks on Burgundy Gate invaders (B) were repulsed. French divisions are massed at (C) should Italy interfere. Italian passes (D) leading into Germany have been opened to trainloads of supplies. In the north, the British fleet has bottled up the German navy in the Baltic.

MINISTER DIES
AT COLUMBIANA

Rev. Albert W. Harold, 79,
Succumbs After Brief Illness

COLUMBIANA, Sept. 15.—Rev. Albert W. Harold, 79, retired Brethren minister, died at 9:15 a. m. Wednesday at his home on the Canfield rd., following four months' illness of complications.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Harold, he was born in Beaver township, Mahoning county, May 18, 1859.

He was married in Columbiana to Mary Ellen Wilderson on Oct. 27, 1881. His wife died six years ago. They celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in October 1931.

He attended Juniata college at Huntingdon, Pa., and entered the ministry in 1891, retiring in 1930. Rev. Harold served during his entire ministry at the Church of the Brethren on the Canfield rd. and at several surrounding churches.

Four daughters and seven brothers preceded him in death.

He is survived by nine children: Robert and William of Leontia; Oliver, Mrs. E. C. Basinger and Peter of Columbiana; Mrs. N. P. Pregner of the home; Mrs. William Wilkinson of Poland; grandchildren and six great grandchildren; and one brother, Joseph, of Columbiana.

Funeral service will be held at 2:30 p. m. Friday at the Church of the Brethren on the Canfield rd. in charge of Rev. G. S. Strausbaugh and other ministers.

Burial will be in the church cemetery. Friends may call at the residence on the Canfield rd., this evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Davies
Arrive In New York

Mr. and Mrs. J. Clyde McKee of N. Union have received word that their daughter, Mrs. Richard L. Davies, and her husband, of Philadelphia, have arrived safely in New York from England where they were stranded for a short time after the outbreak of war.

Mr. and Mrs. Davies were passengers on the Westernland which docked in New York last night. They are expected to arrive in Salem tomorrow. Mrs. Davies is the former Mary Margaret McKee.

The liner Westernland arrived after an adventurous trans-Atlantic crossing in which the vessel was stopped and boarded by a crew of a British destroyer and flag salutes were exchanged with a German submarine. Among the Westernland's 565 passengers were 328 Americans.

Faces U. S. Charge

LISBON, Sept. 14.—Robert Ditcher of Rogers, arrested by Sheriff Harry L. Gosney Tuesday night in connection with Sunday burglaries at Rogers village, was taken to Cleveland today to appear before federal authorities.

He admitted to Postal Inspector J. Ivey, Jr., of Akron that he broke into and robbed the Rogers post-office.

Dr. and Mrs. R. T. Holzbach Arrive
In Salem Today After
Atlantic Crossing

Dr. and Mrs. R. T. Holzbach arrived in Salem today from New York where they landed yesterday after crossing the Atlantic on the liner Cameronia.

A group of relatives and friends, who maintained a constant interest in their safety after it was reported that they had been aboard the liner Athenia when it was torpedoed and sunk off the Irish coast, greeted the Salem physician and his wife on their arrival here.

Dr. and Mrs. Holzbach were listed officially as having been rescued from the ill-fated British liner, but later developments proved they were not aboard the ship.

Mount To Receive
Pilot Applications

ALLIANCE, Sept. 14.—Applications are being received at Mount Union college from students interested in the private flying training which is being sponsored by the Civil Aeronautics Authority and the college this year.

Students between the ages of 18 and 24, inclusive are eligible to apply for the flying course. President C. B. Ketcham has announced that the ground instruction will be given by Dr. F. J. Shollenberger, professor of physics. The flight instruction will be given by Harry Renkert at the Martin field between Alliance and Canton.

The program at Mount Union college will be carried on under the direction of a committee which includes Dean M. W. Hyde, as chairman, Dr. F. J. Shollenberger and K. H. McFall.

60 Men Assigned
To Firestone Park

Assignment of 60 men to the WPA project at Firestone park in Columbiana to take care of layoffs made several weeks ago, was announced today by George Weinberg, county WPA project engineer, in Lisbon.

The assignments were effective yesterday.

An equal number of WPA workers was put to work on the Fairfield road project, northeast of Lisbon.

The layoffs involved men who had been in 18 months of continuous service of the WPA.

Canada Is Open
To U. S. Tourists

Canada's declaration of war on Germany has not affected the travel of Americans into the Dominion.

Albert P. Morris, manager of the Columbiana County Motor club, was in receipt of a letter today from the Canadian Travel bureau stating that no restrictions had been imposed, or were likely to be placed, on travels of Americans in Canada.

Neither are tourists required to secure Canadian documents in entering or leaving Canada, the letter read.

GERMANS MOVE UP
HEAVY ARTILLERY

Reinforcements Concentrating
Behind Saar
Capital

(By Associated Press)
PARIS, Sept. 14.—French forces, supported by thousands of newly landed British troops, were reported today in military dispatches to be closing in from three sides on Saarbruecken, industrial center of the rich Saar basin.

Seizure of the city, the reports indicated, was considered vital to give the French a jumping off point for a wider attack against the heavily fortified Siegfried line.

Indications the Poles were being hard pressed by concentrated German artillery fire came in an official war communique.

"Strong action by heavy enemy artillery on heights south of Saarbruecken," the communique read.

Nazis Move Up Guns

Reich troops previously were reported moving heavy long range guns into the battle areas. The position of the firing batteries and the intensity of the shelling were not disclosed.

German reinforcements were reported massing behind Saarbruecken to forestall a direct French attack and occupation of the Saar capital.

Heavy fighting was reported near Hornbach as the French troops pushed eastward in an attempted encircling movement.

Rain hampered operations along the 100-mile front between the Moselle and Rhine rivers, but military dispatches spoke of "substantial" gains.

Saarbruecken is located midway on the front not far from the French border.

German reinforcements were reported pouring into the areas behind Saarbruecken and opposite the French city of Strasbourg in northeastern France.

British Prepare for Action
The French government declared officially that there already are "several hundred thousand" British troops now in France. Officials said, however, that the British had not yet engaged in action, pointing out that it would take some time to concentrate supplies and dispose of the units along the front.

French officials contrasted the appearance of the new troops with what they described as "the handful of heroes" who were thrown into the breach in the early days of the World war in an effort to stem the German advance from Belgium.

(A dispatch from Algeiras, Spain, reported 10 English troop transports had passed Gibraltar enroute to France. Two British ships stopped at Gibraltar, one to disembark several thousand soldiers to reinforce the garrison and the other to unload war supplies.)

Units of the British army were observed moving toward the front. There was little of the public rejoicing that greeted the arrival of the British in 1914, and French peasants, stolidly watching the brown clad columns moving through their villages, seemed to take the coming of their allies for granted.

Says Congress To Study Neutrality

SPRINGFIELD, Sept. 14.—Rep. John Vorys (R-Ohio) believes that President Roosevelt called a special session of congress too quickly to permit legislators to study the neutrality question thoroughly.

A leader of the bloc that defeated the Roosevelt administration's neutrality revision legislation at the last session, Vorys said today that "careful, calm and thoughtful consideration" of America's position in the European conflict was necessary.

THE WILL TO PEACE

The only way to keep a nation out of war is to cultivate the will to peace and there is every evidence that in the United States that will is well founded.

Those who remember 1914 will recognize readily the difference in the state of the public mind now as compared with 25 years ago when at the outbreak of European hostilities, two years before this country entered the war, there was violently partisan feeling here. Hundreds of young Americans were crossing into Canada to enlist and at home there were bitter feelings against the Central powers, expressed in many ways.

In this day one hears much against Hitler but little against the German nation. In fact half of the expressed opinion sympathizes with many of the German claims although it is opposed to the methods Hitler employs in turning them into demands.

There is much less activity in this country among the nationals of the warring lands than there was in 1914. There have been no pro-German or pro-ally demonstrations and in every way the United States has been given an excellent demonstration of minding its own business.

There is no apparent belligerence here, either on the part of the people or their government. So long as this feeling continues, America is safe from war for there can be no involvement; in the European conflict so long as the American people hold fast to their will for peace.

It is easy to sustain this will so long as America is isolated from the war and can look at it from an abstract point of view. There are, however, disturbing indications that it may be impossible to maintain this isolation. Reports are arriving that American ships have been stopped. The United States always has demanded freedom of the seas and any interference with this principle will bring resentment.

It is all too likely that there will be other incidents, possibly of a more serious nature. It was sinking of ships and loss of American non-combatant lives which broke down the will to peace in 1916. Whether or not this will may be preserved in the present time if American interests become affected and her policies challenged is a question which will become increasingly important as the belligerents extend their operations from the present minor clashes into a fullgrown war.

ONLY A SKIRMISH

Those suddenly soaring foodstuff prices which hit the United States last week in an offensive that found the country unprepared are not a general war on the pocketbook but only a minor skirmish. The nation is well prepared to defend itself and already conditions are moving back to normal.

The spurt was an interesting demonstration of mass psychology which, in its larger application, leads to panic. Housewives remembered their shopping experiences of 25 years ago when sugar was doled out in pound packages and they swarmed down on their grocers to lay in a supply. Stock rapidly became exhausted and because customers wanted sugar which some stores were not in a position to supply at the moment, the price went up like a skyrocket.

There is no shortage of sugar or of any other foodstuff in the United States. On the contrary the government is holding huge surplus supplies of most commodities and President Roosevelt has just thrown on the market 500,000 tons of sugar and has removed restrictions imposed on production and export.

Pictorially high prices cannot exist in the face of an abundant supply and especially when the public becomes convinced that there is no reason for hoarding.

The flurry was only one of the evidences of the hysteria which always accompanies a war. It will pass before it has made any great inroads on the budget of the great American family.

GREAT DAY FOR SUCKERS

The great American sucker is again striking at the bait of big profits in the stock market for the first time in 10 years. Rising prices of "war baby" issues have inflamed the get-rich-quick feeling and the public has forgotten how badly it was burned in the collapse of 1929.

Favored stocks have soared since war started in Europe and a few of the leaders have doubled in price. There have been enormous profits. It is true, but it is an infallible truth that there will be losses.

Analysis of the buying shows more small orders than exchanges have had since the depression, proof that the amateur stock buyer is active again. Many safeguards have been thrown around the market by federal regulation and by the exchanges themselves but stock buying, especially for the inexperienced, remains a gamble.

Conditions like these are harvest times for promoters. Nobody can predict what the market is likely to do in the future or how many fortunes will be made or lost in the present flurry. One bit of advice, however, is sound. It is "Remember 1929."

BORDER IS STILL OPEN

Nowhere else in the world is the frontier of any country at war so open as that between the United States and Canada and the Canadian government wishes it to be known that Americans may still enter with scarcely more formality than they encounter in passing from one of the states to another.

The longest unfortified international boundary in the world signifies the traditional friendship between the two countries. Now Canada is formally at war and the United States is at peace but this brings no change in the situation at the border.

Canada's entrance into the war brings only one major change as regards its relations with the United States. Airplanes must not fly across the border except by special permission of the Canadian air authorities. In this age when planes span the Atlantic on regular schedule the neighbors to the north want to know who is flying over their country and why.

THE STARS SAY:

For Friday, September 15

MODERATELY-favorable conditions are shown by an interesting array of planetary directions. These should stimulate employment, business, writings, publicity and all manner of home, educational or cultural activities. There are hints of intrigues of a pleasant nature, and certain rather fascinating undertones in connection with intimate relations demand prudent, circumspect restraints.

Those whose birthday it is may be assured of a fairly progressive and fortunate year, with some surprising developments. The latter mainly affect the private affiliations, in which some glamorous or alluring intrigue may call for much discretion and restraint if pitfalls and regrets are to be averted.

A child born on this day may be active, efficient and fairly ambitious. Its talents and inclinations lie in the direction of art, music, literature or acting, although it may be largely devoted to romantic indulgences or the pursuit of pleasure.

THE WAR TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

The position of Poland's badly hampered armies today must be described advisedly as desperate.

The Polish main line of defense, which roughly bisects the country from north to south and depends greatly for its strength on the Vistula river and its tributaries, appeared from incomplete and sometimes contradictory claims to be crumbling fast in several vital spots.

This is the strategic line upon which the Poles have been banking chiefly to stem the onrush of the Germans. Its collapse would mean disaster, barring miracles.

The epic defense of Warsaw was continuing after a solid week of bloody battle with an advancing force which was well-nigh overwhelming in all departments excepting courage and the willingness to die for country.

But the Germans announced that they had swept down on the east side of the capital and surrounded the beleaguered city. This meant a definite smashing of the Polish main defenses on the northeast.

The line also was reported penetrated some 70 miles southeast of Warsaw on the Vistula near Dublin and 45 miles below that point in the Krasnik region, while the German drive in the Lwow (Lemberg) area was proceeding like a steam roller.

An Associated Press war correspondent reported yesterday from Lwow that "so fast is the German advance moving that none can tell where it will be at the end of the afternoon. Behind the front conditions are 'chaotic.'"

The plight of the Poles in this region would seem reminiscent of the great German push against the British in the World war in the spring of 1918. There was one time when the Germans were coming through so fast on the Somme that even the British general headquarters couldn't keep track of its retreating troops at all times.

How Much And How Often
Do Our Bodies Change?

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
"EVERY PART of the body is completely changed every seven years."

That was one of the basic principles taught in the physiology of my high school days.

A modern psychologist, my colleague, Dr. Wiggam, has this in reply to the question: "Do psychologists get along happily with their wives?" by saying that he and

Dr. Clendenning will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

Mrs. Wiggam have lived very happily together for 37 years. When he teases her for being contented with the same man so long, she replies, "But you are not the same man you were when I married you."

More a Development
I suppose only partly. I think Dr. Wiggam would admit that while psychically he has changed, it has been more a development of traits and qualities that were already present than a replacement. All the cells of his higher nervous system are still exactly intact as they were at the age of 21. His synapses are the same. Perhaps he has a few more, or a few thousand more; he is a clever man and entitled to that many.

Of course, chemically he is very different. There is probably not a single chemical atom in him that has exactly the identical particles of phosphorus or potassium as when he first noted.

Here, we encounter a mystery. The nucleus of one of his nerve cells, for instance, functions exactly as it did. Vitrally, from the standpoint of the life process, it is the same. But the chemicals of which it is made are renewed over and over again.

There is no authority, I think, for putting the period of our complete chemical change at seven years.

In the case of certain chemical parts of our body, however, we are told on good authority that there is a complete replacement every six years. These are the minerals, particularly calcium.

"All of our calcium," according to Drs. C. C. and S. M. Furnas, (in Man, Bread and Destiny) "is completely replaced about every six years, and the only way to maintain the balance in the body is to take in a sufficient quantity in the food. If there is insufficient intake, the body tries to make adjustment but is never completely successful. It goes on excreting calcium, taking it from the bones and teeth."

Fleeting and transitory as may be its habitation in your body during life, your chemical preservation on this earth depends on the calcium in your body at death. It alone survives "the drums and tramping" of the centuries. The chalk cliffs of Dover, which symbolize England itself to the British heart, are made up of the calcium compounds of the mollusk shells and urchin spines that were dropped to the ocean bed a hundred million years ago. Large animal bones and teeth have remained in protected places almost intact for millions of years. All we know of the human race's first million years on earth is the calcium-made bones and teeth that once were part of a man, a few stone chips and calcium animal bone fish hooks.

THE WILL TO PEACE

The only way to keep a nation out of war is to cultivate the will to peace and there is every evidence that in the United States that will is well founded.

Those who remember 1914 will recognize readily the difference in the state of the public mind now as compared with 25 years ago when at the outbreak of European hostilities, two years before this country entered the war, there was violently partisan feeling here. Hundreds of young Americans were crossing into Canada to enlist and at home there were bitter feelings against the Central powers, expressed in many ways.

In this day one hears much against Hitler but little against the German nation. In fact half of the expressed opinion sympathizes with many of the German claims although it is opposed to the methods Hitler employs in turning them into demands.

There is much less activity in this country among the nationals of the warring lands than there was in 1914. There have been no pro-German or pro-ally demonstrations and in every way the United States has been given an excellent demonstration of minding its own business.

There is no apparent belligerence here, either on the part of the people or their government. So long as this feeling continues, America is safe from war for there can be no involvement in the European conflict so long as the American people hold fast to their will for peace.

It is easy to sustain this will so long as America is isolated from the war and can look at it from an abstract point of view. There are, however, disturbing indications that it may be impossible to maintain this isolation. Reports are arriving that American ships have been stopped. The United States always has demanded freedom of the seas and any interference with this principle will bring resentment.

It is all too likely that there will be other incidents, possibly of a more serious nature. It was sinking of ships and loss of American noncombatant lives which broke down the will to peace in 1916. Whether or not this will be preserved in the present time if American interests become affected and her policies challenged is a question which will become increasingly important as the belligerents extend their operations from the present minor clashes into a fullgrown war.

ONLY A SKIRMISH

Those suddenly soaring foodstuff prices which hit the United States last week in an offensive that found the country unprepared are not a general war on the pocketbook but only a minor skirmish. The nation is well prepared to defend itself and already conditions are moving back to normal.

The spurt was an interesting demonstration of mass psychology which, in its larger application, leads to panic. Housewives remembered their shopping experiences of 25 years ago when sugar was doled out in pound packages and they swarmed down on their grocers to lay in a supply. Stock rapidly became exhausted and because customers wanted sugar which some stores were not in a position to supply at the moment, the price went up like a skyrocket.

There is no shortage of sugar or of any other foodstuff in the United States. On the contrary the government is holding huge surplus supplies of most commodities and President Roosevelt has just thrown on the market 500,000 tons of sugar and has removed restrictions imposed on production and export.

Pictorially high prices cannot exist in the face of an abundant supply and especially when the public becomes convinced that there is no reason for hoarding.

The flurry was only one of the evidences of the hysteria which always accompanies a war. It will pass before it has made any great inroads on the budget of the great American family.

GREAT DAY FOR SUCKERS

The great American sucker is again striking at the bait of big profits in the stock market for the first time in 10 years. Rising prices of "war baby" issues have inflamed the get-rich-quick feeling and the public has forgotten how badly it was burned in the collapse of 1929.

Favored stocks have soared since war started in Europe and a few of the leaders have doubled in price. There have been enormous profits. It is true, but it is an infallible truth that there will be losses.

Analysis of the buying shows more small orders than exchanges have had since the depression, proof that the amateur stock buyer is active again. Many safeguards have been thrown around the market by federal regulation and by the exchanges themselves but stock buying, especially for the inexperienced, remains a gamble.

Conditions like these are harvest times for promoters. Nobody can predict what the market is likely to do in the future or how many fortunes will be made or lost in the present flurry. One bit of advice, however, is sound. It is "Remember 1929".

BORDER IS STILL OPEN

Norway else in the world is the frontier of any country at war so open as that between the United States and Canada and the Canadian government wishes it to be known that Americans may still enter with scarcely more formality than they encounter in passing from one of the states to another.

The longest unfortified international boundary in the world signifies the traditional friendship between the two countries. Now Canada is formally at war and the United States is at peace but this brings no change in the situation at the border.

Canada's entrance into the war brings only one major change as regards its relations with the United States. Airplanes must not fly across the border except by special permission of the Canadian air authorities. In this age when planes span the Atlantic on regular schedule the neighbors to the north want to know who is flying over their country and why.

THE STARS SAY:

For Friday, September 15

MODERATELY-favorable conditions are shown by an interesting array of planetary directions. These should stimulate employment, business, writings, publicity and all manner of home, educational or cultural activities. There are hints of intrigues of a pleasant nature, and certain rather fascinating undertones in connection with intimate relations demand prudent, circumspect restraints.

Those whose birthday it is may be assured of a fairly progressive and fortunate year, with some surprising developments. The latter mainly affect the private affiliations, in which some glamorous or alluring intrigue may call for much discretion and restraint if pitfalls and regrets are to be averted.

A child born on this day may be active, efficient and fairly ambitious. Its talents and inclinations lie in the direction of art, music, literature or acting, although it may be largely devoted to romantic indulgences or the pursuit of pleasure.

THE WAR TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

The position of Poland's badly hammered armies today must be described advisedly as desperate.

The Polish main line of defense, which roughly bisects the country from north to south and depends greatly for its strength on the Vistula river and its tributaries, appeared from incomplete and sometimes contradictory claims to be crumbling fast in several vital spots.

This is the strategic line upon which the Poles have been banking chiefly to stem the onrush of the Germans. Its collapse would mean disaster, barring miracles.

The epic defense of Warsaw was continuing after a solid week of bloody battle with an advancing force which was well-nigh overwhelming in all departments excepting courage and the willingness to die for country.

But the Germans announced that they had swept down on the east side of the capital and surrounded the beleaguered city. This meant a definite smashing of the Polish main defenses on the northeast.

The line also was reported penetrated some 70 miles southeast of Warsaw on the Vistula near Dublin and 45 miles below that point in the Krasnik region, while the German drive in the Lwow (Lemberg) area was proceeding like a steam roller.

An Associated Press war correspondent reported yesterday from Lwow that "so fast is the German advance moving that none can tell where it will be at the end of the afternoon. Behind the front conditions are 'chaotic'."

The plight of the Poles in this region would seem reminiscent of the great German push against the British in the World war in the spring of 1918. There was one time when the Germans were coming through so fast on the Somme that even the British general headquarters couldn't keep track of its retreating troops at all times.

How Much And How Often
Do Our Bodies Change?

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
"EVERY PART of the body is completely changed every seven years."

That was one of the basic principles taught in the physiology of my high school days.

A modern psychologist, my colleague, Dr. Wiggam, tells this in replying to the question, "Do psychologists get along happily with their wives?" by saying that he and

Dr. Clendenning will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

Mrs. Wiggam have lived very happily together for 37 years. When he teases her for being contented with the same man so long, she replies, "But you are not the same man you were when I married you."

I suppose only partly, I think Dr. Wiggam would admit that while psychically he has changed, it has been more a development of traits and qualities that were already present than a replacement. All the cells of his higher nervous system are still exactly intact as they were at the age of 21. His synapses are the same. Perhaps he has a few more, or a few thousand more; he is a clever man and entitled to that many.

Of course, chemically he is very different. There is probably not a single chemical atom in him that has exactly the identical particles of phosphorus or potassium as when he first voted.

Here we encounter a mystery. The nucleus of one of his nerve cells, for instance, functions exactly as it did. Vitrally, from the standpoint of the life process, it is the same. But the chemicals of which it is made are renewed over and over again.

There is no authority, I think, for putting the period of our complete chemical change at seven years.

In the case of certain chemical parts of our body, however we are told on good authority that there is a complete replacement every six years. These are the minerals, particularly calcium.

"All of our calcium," according to Drs. C. C. and S. M. Furnas, (in Man, Bread and Destiny) "is completely replaced about every six years, and the only way to maintain the balance in the body is to take in a sufficient quantity in the food. If there is insufficient intake, the body tries to make adjustment but is never completely successful. It goes on excreting calcium, taking it from the bones and teeth."

Fleeting and transitory as may be its habitation in your body during life, your chemical preservation on this earth depends on the calcium in your body at death. It alone survives "the drums and tramping" of the centuries.

The chalk cliffs of Dover, which symbolize England itself to the British heart, are made up of the calcium compounds of the mollusk shells and urchin spines that were dropped to the ocean bed a hundred million years ago. Large animal bones and teeth have remained in protected places almost intact for millions of years. All we know of the human race's first million years on earth is the calcium-made bones and teeth that once were part of a man, a few stone chips and calcium animal bone fish hooks.

ONLY 98 CENTS

GUARANTEED

To prove the great power of genuine "Old Mohawk Medicine" for systems that are full of poisons, due to constipation and are all run down in consequence thereof, we offer two big family size bottles (4 weeks' use) for only 98 cents (or you may buy one big bottle for 49 cents to try it). Within a few hours this unusual medicine is intended to drive such poisons right out of your body. The result is that after about six doses the pains in your arms, back, knees and legs are usually much better; a few more doses are intended to reduce stiffness or swelling; even one dose will often ease an attack of gas, bloating, headache, biliousness or indigestion which is so frequently caused by impacted waste matter in your system. All people need a good cleaning out every now and then. For this purpose we guarantee "Old Mohawk Medicine." Try it. Sold at this price only at the J. A. Lease Drug Stores, Salem.

CHURCH GROUP OUTLINES WORK

Columbiana Presbyterians Discuss Program For Year

COLUMBIANA, Sept. 14.—The three official boards of the Presbyterian church met at the church last night for a business session preceded by a coverdish supper. Mrs. Russell Esterly and Mrs. E. A. Peters were in charge of arrangements. Rev. J. K. McDivitt outlined plans for the coming season of the church work.

The meeting of the Wide Awake class of the Grace Reformed church, scheduled for Friday afternoon, has been postponed to Friday evening, Sept. 22nd.

Local chapter O. E. S. entertained the Negley chapter in the hall Tuesday evening with about 100 present. Deputy Grand Matron Minnie Fisher of Massillon was a special guest. Mrs. Jane Martin, local matron, presided. The program included violin selections by Mrs. R. E. Mackall accompanied by Elaine Aiken of Leetonia. Lunch was served at the conclusion by a committee with Mrs. Bert Brinker as chairman.

Jean Todd entertained associate members of bridge club at her home on County Line road Tuesday evening. Three tables were in play after which the hosts served lunch.

The annual Masters Tournament will be held Sunday at Valley Golf club. About 50 golfers are eligible, including four members who are in line for the cup if they win this meet. They are Graydon Metz, Earl Patterson, Dave Wolfgang and George Hoover. Play will start at eight o'clock. The course will be closed to the public until ten o'clock.

Mrs. Raymond Santullo is a patient in the Salem City hospital for surgical treatment.

Robert Entrikin, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Entrikin, is recovering from an appendicitis operation which he underwent Wednesday morning in the Salem City hospital.

N. GEORGETOWN

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Boron have moved into the Stoller cottage at Lake Placidia recently vacated by Mr. and Mrs. John Liber.

Mr. and Mrs. James Anderson were hosts Saturday to a group of out-of-town guests, the event being a "show" honoring Mr. Anderson's sister, Miss Violet Anderson of Alliance, whose marriage to Howard Elliott of Alliance will be an event of the near future.

Monte Carlo was played by the guests and prizes went to Mrs. Ray Mulac, Miss Mary Anderson, Mrs. James Duncan and Mrs. Alex Anderson of Alliance.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Glen Fisher of Columbus and Mrs. William McCandle of Alliance served refreshments.

Attend Reunion
Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wang, Ralph Wang and Mrs. Rena Whiteleather attended the Myers family reunion at the home of Mrs. Mary Heck near New Middletown Saturday.

Meet at Sebring
Women's Missionary society of the Lutheran church met at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Charles Frank of Sebring Monday evening. Lesson study topic was in charge.

of Mrs. Ida Wyss, with the devotion in charge of Mrs. Ross Liber. Mrs. Frank, assisted by Misses Lois Berger and Elsie Barnett, served lunch. The October meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Peter Berger.

Plan Meeting
Mrs. Whiteleather went to Youngstown where she was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Morton Curran until Sunday evening.

Monthly business meeting and social of the Luther league will be held at the Lake Placidia home of Mrs. Anna Martin with a wiener roast as a feature.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Reichenbach have purchased the J. C. Harry property.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Meade and family of Wheeling were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Hoskins.

CANBERRA, Australia.—The Federal Director of Mental Hygiene has announced that 46 per cent of the patients in government mental homes who have been treated with the new insulin-cardiazol shock treatment have recovered full mental health. The treatment was carried out on 202 patients of whom 92 were restored mentally.

Theatre Attractions

The Irene Dunne-Charles Boyer co-starring film, "When Tomorrow Comes," continues tonight through Saturday at the State.

The cast includes Barbara O'Neil, Onslow Stevens, Nadia Westman, Fritz Feld, Nella Walker, and Greta Meyer.

The story concerns the love affair of a brilliant French pianist and a young waitress whose romance is tragically complicated by Boyer's wife who is a mental case.

The pianist and the waitress meet in New York when she mistakes him for a labor spy. He convinces her of his innocence and they spend the next day on a sailing trip. A sudden storm forces them to make a landing and during the time they are waiting for the storm to abate she learns he is a famous artist.

The storm becomes a hurricane and threatens to sweep them to their deaths. She confesses her love for him and refuses to listen when he tries to tell her something. At a refugee camp in the morning she learns he is married and returns by herself to the city.

Later, meeting his wife, she sees the woman is a mental case, whose malady is becoming rapidly worse. The wife comes to see the waitress and, in a dramatic scene between the two women, the problem is solved.

More than good acting by the principals and brilliant direction makes the picture first class film entertainment.

At the Grand Friday and Saturday is the Three Mesquiteers new western, "New Frontier," with John Wayne, Ray Corrigan and Raymond Hatton as the famous trio.

Jean Todd entertained associate members of bridge club at her home on County Line road Tuesday evening. Three tables were in play after which the hosts served lunch.

The annual Masters Tournament will be held Sunday at Valley Golf club. About 50 golfers are eligible, including four members who are in line for the cup if they win this meet. They are Graydon Metz, Earl Patterson, Dave Wolfgang and George Hoover. Play will start at eight o'clock. The course will be closed to the public until ten o'clock.

Mrs. Raymond Santullo is a patient in the Salem City hospital for surgical treatment.

Robert Entrikin, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Entrikin, is recovering from an appendicitis operation which he underwent Wednesday morning in the Salem City hospital.

N. GEORGETOWN

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Boron have moved into the Stoller cottage at Lake Placencia, recently vacated by Mr. and Mrs. John Liber.

Mr. and Mrs. James Anderson were hosts Saturday to a group of out-of-town guests, the event being a "show" honoring Mr. Anderson's sister, Miss Violet Anderson of Alliance, whose marriage to Howard Elliott of Alliance will be an event of the near future.

Monte Carlo was played by the guests and prizes went to Mrs. Ray Mulac, Miss Mary Anderson, Mrs. James Duncan and Mrs. Alex Anderson all of Alliance.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Glen Fisher of Columbus and Mrs. William McCandle of Alliance served refreshments.

Attend Reunion
Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wang, Ralph Wang and Mrs. Rena Whiteleather attended the Myers family reunion at the home of Mrs. Mary Heck near New Middletown Saturday.

Meet at Sebring
Women's Missionary society of the Lutheran church met at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Charles Frank of Sebring Monday evening. Lesson study topic was in charge of Mrs. Ida Wyss, with the devotion in charge of Mrs. Ross Liber. Mrs. Frank, assisted by Misses Lois Berger and Theda Barnett, served lunch. The October meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Peter Berger.

Mrs. Whiteleather went to Youngstown where she was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Morton Curran until Sunday evening.

Plan Meeting
Monthly business meeting and social of the Luther league will be held at the Lake Placencia home of Mrs. Anna Martin with a wienner roast as a feature.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Reichenbach have purchased the J. C. Harry property.

CANBERRA, Australia.—The Federal Director of Mental Hygiene has announced that 46 per cent of the patients in government mental homes who have been treated with the new insulin-cardiazol shock treatment have recovered full mental health. The treatment was carried out on 202 patients of whom 92 were restored mentally.

Theatre Attractions

The Irene Dunne-Charles Boyer co-starring film, "When Tomorrow Comes," continues tonight through Saturday at the State.

The cast includes Barbara O'Neil, Onslow Stevens, Nydia Westman, Fritz Feld, Nella Walker, and Greta Meyer.

The story concerns the love affair of a brilliant French pianist and a young waitress whose romance is tragically complicated by Boyer's wife who is a mental case.

The pianist and the waitress meet in New York when she mistakes him for a labor spy. He convinces her of his innocence and they spend the next day on a sailing trip. A sudden storm forces them to make a landing and during the time they are waiting for the storm to abate she learns he is a famous artist.

The storm becomes a hurricane and threatens to sweep them to their deaths. She confesses her love for him and refuses to listen when he tries to tell her something. At a refugee camp in the morning she learns he is married and returns by herself to the city.

Later, meeting his wife, she sees the woman is a mental case, whose malady is becoming rapidly worse. The wife comes to see the waitress and, in a dramatic scene between the two women, the problem is solved.

More than good acting by the principals and brilliant direction makes the picture first class film entertainment.

At the Grand Friday and Saturday is the Three Mesquiteers new western, "New Frontier," with John Wayne, Ray Corrigan and Raymond Hatton as the famous trio.

ALIVE WITH INNOVATIONS

1940 DODGE with NEW FULL-FLOATING RIDE

YOUR Dodge dealer has the really big new car news this year! In fact, the moment you set eyes on the new 1940 Dodge Luxury Liner, you'll know something new and different has taken place in the automobile industry!

For here is more than just another new model—it's an entirely new automobile! It's even bigger and roomier than last year, with more new ideas than you ever dreamed possible in a car priced so low! And topping it all off is the sensational new Dodge Full-Floating Ride—an amazing new kind of ride never before made possible at the Dodge low price!

Words cannot describe it, but a ride will speak volumes! That's why we say see your Dodge dealer and get a free demonstration ride right away! No obligation!

COMFORT ZONE

NEVER BEFORE a ride like this in a car priced so low—the new Full-Floating Ride in the new 1940 Dodge! It's a 25-year engineering dream come true! Wheelbase is longer, center of gravity has been lowered, wheels are moved backward, seats forward and car weight has been scientifically distributed so that now all passengers ride in the buoyant "Comfort Zone" between the axles!

OLD WAY. Now you can say goodbye to the old-style "dog-leg" rear door that made getting in and out of the rear compartment cumbersome and difficult.
NEW WAY. Now, with the new-type Dodge straight rear door, you walk right in and right out! Here's another of the many innovations the 1940 Dodge offers you!

Missionary Group Hears India News

Mrs. W. E. Bunn presided at the meeting of the Women's Missionary society in the Presbyterian church Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. I. H. Cooke led the devotional service which was followed by "Late News From India," a paper, read by Mrs. George Meiser.

Mrs. Thomas Jenkins gave a report of synod and presbytery sessions held recently.

Concluding the program was a group of piano selections played by Mrs. Homer S. Taylor.

Supper was served at 5:30 p. m. by the September committee of the Women's Association, with Mrs. T. J. J. as chairman.

The society will meet Oct. 11 at the church.

Bowling Party Held By Graduates

A bowling party at the Grate Recreation center last night, followed by refreshments at the Hannah E. Mullins Nurses' home, was the mid-week event in the program of activities honoring the six graduates of Salem City Hospital Nurses Training school.

Members of the training school committee of the board of trustees, headed by Mrs. R. B. Kernohan, entertained the graduates, who will receive their diplomas at 8 p. m. Friday night in public exercises at the Elks home.

Graduates are Misses Thelma Miller and Mildred E. (Snail of Salem); Miss Nelda R. DeStefano of Columbiana; Miss Genevieve Hochstetler of Pa.; Miss Edna Mae Immel of Hanover; and Miss Virginia R. Newhouse of Lisbon.

Tonight's Alumnae association theater party and dinner in Canton is another of the commencement week activities.

Homemakers Convene At Hannay Home

Vernal Grove Homemakers club met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. James Hannay, Newgarden rd.

Following the regular business meeting a program of interesting readings was presented by members of the club. The program was followed by lunch served by Mrs. Hannay and her associate, Mrs. Carl Hannay. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Cora Harris, Newgarden rd., on Oct. 11.

Women's Organization Enjoys Program

The Women's Organization of the Methodist church met yesterday in the church. The business session followed a luncheon at 1 p. m. in charge of Circle 4.

Devotionals were led by Mrs. Carl Asmus. The program included piano solos by Miss Dorothy McConner and two readings by Mrs. Wesley Kille.

The group will meet again in December.

Mrs. Edward McCloskey Is Club Hostess

The Cardettes club was entertained last night at the home of Mrs. Edward McCloskey, McKimley Heights.

Mrs. Ed. Irey, Mrs. Charles Lynn and Miss Anna Ruth Vincent were winners of the card prizes for the evening. Lunch was served by the hostess.

The Sept. 27 meeting will be held at the home of Miss Vincent, South Union ave.

Mrs. Detrow Hostess To Past Chiefs

Past Chiefs' association of the Pythian Sisters was entertained yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. L. H. Detrow on the Damascus rd. The association enjoyed a social afternoon, with cards, followed by a dinner at 6 p. m.

The next meeting will be held Oct. 11 at the K. of P. hall.

SCHOOL NEWS

AT DAMASCUS

Guns, Ammunition Found At Prison

LONDON, Sept. 14.—Two guns and a quantity of whisky and narcotics were found in an intensive search of the London prison farm and its inmates. Acting Supt. William F. Amrine disclosed today.

Amrine, who took charge Sept. 5 during the sick leave of Supt. T. C. Jenkins, said the loaded shotgun was found behind barrels in the prison yard and that the revolver was taken from a convict.

Five shotgun shells and 10 revolver shells also were confiscated.

From eight to 10 bottles of whisky and a small quantity of narcotics were discovered and several convicts were found to be carrying crudely fashioned knives, Amrine added.

He reported that most of the articles had been smuggled in from the outside and that in the future all prisoners would be searched after receiving visitors.

City, Bombed From Air 14 Days, Becomes Giant Torch

By DANIEL DeLUCE

(The following dispatch was sent by courier and telegraph to Budapest and filed from Budapest at 6:55 a. m. Thursday—12:55 a. m. EST.)

(By Associated Press)

LWOW, Poland, Sept. 14, 5 a. m. (11 p. m. EST.)—Sept. 13 — Regardless of whether the slowly retreating Polish army is able to stem the German advance, this city of 316,000 population is doomed.

Bombed from the air for 14 days and battered by artillery during the past week, Lwow is a giant torch. A red glow, cast over the city by flames from burning oil refineries, makes a grim mockery of air raid precautions.

Headquarters Hidden

Military headquarters in Lwow have been established in low wooden buildings in the center of the city on the theory the Germans might consider them not worth bombing.

Reservoir Emptied

Other fires are burning in many sections of the city. Shattered aqueducts have emptied the reservoir from which Lwow draws its water supply and efforts to quench the flames with sand are pitifully ineffectual.

An acute food shortage, the danger of plague and the horror of bombing attacks have reduced the remaining residents to a state of panic. Over all hovers the fear that the Germans may enter the city at any moment.

The panic is particularly acute among the Jewish community, which numbers approximately 100,000. In shell-scarred synagogues, the Jews began their New Year celebration by offering up prayers for rain which they hoped might halt the march of the German army.

All railroad junction terminals in the city have been wrecked by the bombs lie along the tracks. As fast as the Poles can repair vital rail lines they are destroyed by German bombers.

Many passenger trains derailed by the bombs lie along the tracks. Not only military caravans but private cars have been machine-gunned from the air as well as bombed. I saw frequently along the highways automobiles and peasant carts whose occupants had been killed by machine-gun fire.

Until Monday no anti-aircraft guns were available here to combat the air raids. When they arrived they were manned by inexperienced crews which were unable to score hits even when the enemy planes flew over so low I could almost count the rivets in their fuselages.

Most of the Polish air force—or what remains of it—has been stationed near the Roumanian frontier in the hope of fighting off German attempts to smash Poland's lifetime railway bringing oil and other supplies from Roumania.

But it is a good bet that German fliers could spot the Polish planes for bomb attacks and before you read this that may have happened.

Guns, Ammunition Found At Prison

LONDON, Sept. 14.—Two guns and a quantity of whisky and narcotics were found in an intensive search of the London prison farm and its inmates, Acting Supt.
William F. Amrine disclosed today.
Amrine, who took charge Sept.
5 during the sick leave of Supt.
T. C. Jenkins, said the loaded shotgun was found behind barrels in the prison yard and that the revolver was taken from a convict.
Five shotgun shells and 10 revolver shells also were confiscated.

From eight to 10 bottles of whisky and a small quantity of narcotics were discovered and several convicts were found to be carrying crudely fashioned knives,
Amrine added.
He reported that most of the articles had been smuggled in from the outside and that in the future
all prisoners would be searched after receiving visitors.

WARNS AGAINST CIVILIAN RAIDS

Chamberlain Says German Action Strengthens Allies' Resolve

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, Sept. 14.—Prime Minister Chamberlain told the house of commons today that if Germany should strengthen the resolve of Britain and her allies to "ensure the measure we are now fighting is finally removed."

The prime minister reiterated a statement yesterday by Foreign Secretary Lord Halifax that Britain would claim a free hand to take "appropriate action" if Germany bombed civilians.

Refers to Nazi Statement
Referring to an official German statement that severe measures would be taken to crush civilian resistance in Poland, he said:

"His majesty's government has noted this announcement which in the face of it, is in flat contradiction of the German chancellor's recent statement to the reichstag when he disclaimed any desire to make war on women and children."

The restrictions we—like the French—have imposed on the operations of our own forces were based upon the condition of similar restraint being observed by our opponents; and his majesty's government must, of course, hold itself free, if such restraint is not in fact observed, to take such action as it may deem appropriate."

But I wish to add that whatever be the length to which others may go his majesty's government will never resort to deliberate attacks on women, children and other civilians for purposes of mere terrorism."

One Consideration
In the meantime, it must be remembered that our strategy and tactics must at all stages be governed by one consideration and one only—namely, the most effective prosecution of the war.

It will add that if action of the kind suggested in the German announcement is taken, it will inevitably further strengthen the resolve of ourselves and our allies to conduct our policy and so to prosecute the war as to ensure that the measure which we are fighting of which this may be another manifestation—is finally removed."

Halifax announced in the house of lords that the German government had notified Great Britain it would observe for the duration of the war the prohibitions concerning the use of poisonous gases laid down in the Geneva protocol of June, 1925.

He said, however, that Germany reserved full liberty of action in the event an enemy power infringing provisions of the protocol. The foreign secretary recalled that Hitler said in his reply to President Roosevelt's recent appeal that there should be no bombing of unfortified towns.

Miss Hollett's Room Leads Drive Today

The senior class room of Miss Mildred Hollett is leading the Salem High school association membership drive with a percentage of 84.8 according to James Schaeffer, association president.

A close second is the Junior home room of Miss Mary Roth, with 84.6 per cent. H. C. Lehman's Senior home room is third with 71.7 per cent, while the Senior home room of Miss Ethel Beardsmore is in fourth place with 70.5 per cent.

To date a total of 446 students are enrolled in the association, which offers numerous benefits to the pupils throughout the school year.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Mrs. Glen Jackson Club Hostess At Washingtonville

WASHINGTONVILLE, Sept. 14.—Mrs. Glenn Jackson entertained club associates at her home on Thursday evening. Mrs. Ellison Rouse was a guest. Three tables of cards were played with prizes won by Mrs. Howard Stouffer, Mrs. Loran Weikart, Mrs. Merle Cutchall and Mrs. Andrew Vaughn. The hostess served lunch. In two weeks the club will be guests of Mrs. Russell Smith.

Sidney Brain, of Wyoming, a former resident of Washingtonville, is visiting in the homes of his sisters, Mrs. Caroline Kohrer, and Mrs. Lizzie Tingle.

Mrs. Leland Bertolotto underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Salem City hospital on Sunday.

Emile Guehemand returned home Sunday from the Salem City hospital where he was confined the past ten days for treatment.

Pythian Sisters Party

Nine tables were in play at a card party on Tuesday evening given by the Pythian Sisters. Bridge prizes were won by Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Knopp, "500" prizes by Mrs. Twila Zimmerman and Fred Girard; euchre prizes by Mrs. Russell Smith and Charles Herron. The door prize went to Russell Smith. Lunch was served. Another party will be held in four weeks.

Mrs. George Morrow and sons George and Gene left on Wednesday morning for New York, where they will attend the World's fair. Mrs. Morrell Weikart is improving at the Salem City hospital following an operation for gall stones last week.

Starvation Faces China's Residents

SHANGHAI, Sept. 14 — Foreign relief authorities estimated today 25,000,000 Chinese face starvation and other suffering this winter from floods in Hopeh Province and the Yellow river basin and drought in Shantung province.

Fall crops in these areas were said to be completely destroyed. American religious and Red Cross relief funds are nearly exhausted. The flood crest dropped two feet but most of Tientsin was still under water. The floods extend around the city within a radius of about 50 miles.

Berlin Announces City's

Deutsche Diplomatisch - Politische Korrespondenz as part of the German reaction to Canada's declaration of war last Sunday by which the dominion threw her resources to the side of Great Britain against Germany. Canada's declaration, it said, placed the President in an "awkward" position.

As for the Polish campaign, the German army announced it was closing its ring around Warsaw and showing closer to Lwow and Lublin but reported little of importance on the western front facing France. The only disquieting note in the army communiqués from Poland were occasional references to "unfavorable weather." Thoughtful Germans were wondering whether rains at last were going to soften Poland's notoriously bad roads and bog down the motorized equipment which had enabled the Germans to make their swift thrusts.

The high command discounted this prospect, a spokesman saying, "no matter what the weather, we advance."

Those advances yesterday, according to German announcements, effected a virtual encirclement of Warsaw, took motorized units far along the road to Lwow in the direction of the Roumanian border and enabled northern forces to surround the Polish fortress at Modlin, at the confluence of the Narew and Vistula rivers.

Bitter Sea War Seen
Bitter warfare at sea seemed in prospect. Officials emphasized, however, that there was to be no "unrestricted submarine campaign."

Deutsche Diplomatisch-Politische Korrespondenz referred to President Roosevelt's Tuesday press conference in which he made plain that he interprets the Monroe doctrine to mean the United States should protect by force if necessary all the Americas, including Canada.

Korrespondenz also referred to the President's Kingston, Ontario, speech of last year in which he said the United States would not "stand idly by" if Canada were threatened.

The commentary observed that Mr. Roosevelt, in effect, was saying that Canada may attack a European power but that power may not strike back at Canada. It held such an attitude to be "unfair and unchivalrous, to say nothing of being unneutral."

Germany has no interest in changing the sovereignty of any American territory, "most certainly not to its own benefit," Korrespondenz declared. It said the only two occasions German troops ever fought in the western hemisphere were to help the Canadians throw off French rule and to help Washington throw off British despotism.

Starvation Faces China's Residents

SHANGHAI Sept. 14—Foreign relief authorities estimated today 25,000,000 Chinese face starvation and other suffering this winter from floods in Hopeh Province and the Yellow river basin and drought in Shantung province.

Fall crops in these areas were said to be completely destroyed. American religious and Red Cross relief funds are nearly exhausted. The flood crest dropped two feet but most of Tientsin was still under water. The floods extend around the city within a radius of about 50 miles.

VETERANS WILL FILL FIVE POSTS IN SALEM'S LINE

QUAKERS NEED PAIR OF ENDS FOR 1939 TEAM

Battle For Wing Posts Is Toss-up, Coach Declares

A pair of cracker-jack ends is all that's needed to complete the forward wall of Coach Carl Schroeder's Salem High school football team which opens its 1939 season at Reilly stadium Friday night, Sept. 22, against Spring.

Except for the wing posts, the Quakers' front wall is fairly well set. Veterans from last year's team are expected to fill the line from tackle to tackle.

Melvin Wukotich, a junior and twin brother of the Quakers' pile-driving fullback, Marvin Wukotich, will be back at the center post for the second year. At the start of pre-season practice Aug. 21 it was thought that Wukotich might be shifted into the backfield as a blocking back, but Schroeder has decided he is more valuable on the line.

Probable Guards

The guards will probably be Dick Beck and Carroll Green, both lettermen from the 1938 squad. Green has been tried in the backfield, but it is expected that he will remain at a guard where his speed and ability to pull out of the line quickly to run interference are an asset to the Quakers' running attack.

Beck, one of the heaviest players on the squad, was a tackle last year.

Joe Vender and Leonard Piersol loom as the likely choice for tackles because of their experience and their smashing brand of play. Both are big and rough. Vender was a mainstay in the Quakers' line last year and was named a tackle on the All-County team.

The fight for the end positions is a wide-open affair since the wing berths were left vacant by the graduation of Bill Schaeffer and Dick Terry, last season's regulars.

Bob Shioe, reserve center of last year, appears to have the inside track for one of the end positions, but he is being closely pressed in the fight by George Baillie, Elliott Hansell, Bud Walters and Art Chappell.

Schroeder considers the battle for the end positions a toss-up and will probably name the two candidates who show up best in the final week of pre-season practice for the starting assignments.

Plenty of Reserves

Reserve material for the middle part of the line is not lacking, and several newcomers are giving the veterans a stiff fight for their positions.

Bob Malloy, Felix DiAntonio and Charles Tolp bidding for guard positions, have been showing up well in practice and may push one of the lettermen out of a steady job. Among strong contenders for tackle positions are Ward Zeller, Bob Ruffing and Jack Tansley. The reserve center is Bob Umberger.

Regardless of its makeup, the Quakers' line this season is expected to average around 170 pounds in weight, making it one of the heaviest forward walls in the school's history.

LISBON OPENS FRIDAY NIGHT

County Seat Eleven To Invade Toronto For First Grid Game

LISBON, Sept. 14.—The Lisbon High Blue Devils open their fall gridiron campaign when they invade Toronto Friday night to battle the Red Knights of that city under the floodlights. The kick-off is scheduled for 8.

A large delegation of local followers is expected to witness the debut of the Blue and White eleven.

After three weeks of intensive practice the Lisbon team is shaping up well according to Coach Howard Zlemke who expects to put a thoroughly capable eleven on the field in spite of the fact that there are only two lettermen around which to build this year's team.

The team although light, averaging about 145 pounds, as tentative as selected, has two rangy ends in Hendricks and A. Cartwright and rugged linemen in Culler and Hasbrouck. Tackles, Rodi and Sotherland, guards, and Palmer at center.

The backfield built around the veteran McGovern, who will direct the team's activities, includes a very promising linebusher in Bob McCaughn, and a couple of shifty halves in Paul Devan and Bob Pike.

First line replacements include Frankford and Stark, ends; Dixon and Cook, tackles; Walker and Hannahan, guards; R. McDewitt, center; H. Devan, quarter; Nick Rodi and J. Cartwright, halves, and Don Loch, fullback.

GENE THOMPSON GIVES SHOT IN ARM TO LEADER

His Pitching May Prove What Reds Need In Final Drive

By JUDSON BAILEY
The best news Cincinnati has had since the Ohio river stopped rising during its last flood was the two-hit pitching performance just unfurled by Gene (Junior) Thompson.

Thompson shut out the Brooklyn Dodgers 3-0 yesterday for the first victory the Reds have negotiated in more than three weeks with any pitcher other than Bucky Walters and Paul Derringer.

A 21-year-old righthander with four years of minor league experience, Thompson took part in a no-hit spring training game and otherwise proved his worth. However, he has been used as a relief agent most of the season and did not get his first starting call until July 19.

Troubles Solved

If he is now able to take a regular and effective turn on the mound, some of the Reds' troubles are solved. Both the singles he gave up yesterday came with two out, one was an infield bunt, and no Douge reached second base.

The immediate effect of this triumph was to preserve Cincinnati's 3½ game lead over the tenacious St. Louis Cardinals, who nosed out the Phillies 10-9 by virtue of Ducky Medwick's two-run homer in the eighth. Cincinnati has 24 games to play.

The Chicago Cubs strengthened their grip on third with a 15-4 blast against the Boston Bees. Hank Leiber led the assault with two home runs.

The New York Giants split a doubleheader with the Pittsburgh Pirates, Harry Gumbert coming up with a spectacular two-hit contribution to take the opener 2-0 and the Buccaneers bunched their hits in the nightcap to win 7-4.

Feller Gets 21st

Bobby Feller led the Cleveland Indians to a 9-4 decision over the World Champion Yankees for a sweep of the two-game series in getting his 21st victory. Feller had a shutout for eight innings and his outcome was never in doubt as the Tribe tromped on Red Ruffing early.

The Boston Red Sox took advantage of the opportunity to chop another nick in New York's American league lead by a 1-0 taming of the Detroit Tigers by Lefty Grove, who allowed only four hits.

The Chicago White Sox, out of the pennant race, took both ends of a doubleheader from the Washington Senators on seven hit pitching jobs by Ted Lyons and Jack Knott. The first went 11 innings to a 3-1 score and the second was called at 4-2 in the eighth because of darkness.

The St. Louis Browns did an about face against the Philadelphia Athletics to win 11-3 on a 17-hit attack.

OHIO COLLEGE SEASON OPENS
Grid Campaign Starts Tonight With Game At Youngtown

(By Associated Press)
Ohio college football headquarters communique No. 1:

"Slight local advances were reported today and positions were strengthened generally in preparation for heavy action on the gridiron front. Battle lines were drawn in the Youngstown sector for the first actual warfare of the campaign."

Strategists interpreted the communique as meaning that here and there in Ohio college football camps some progress was being shown, and that at Youngstown the Penguins were all set for the opening game of the season tonight with Geneva college of Geneva, Pa.

"We expect to be stronger than a year ago, but I believe Geneva will have practically its entire 1938 team," Coach Dick Beede said in predicting a close game.

Alfred Holbrook will be the second Ohio team to get into action, meeting Union college at Bourbonville, Ky., Saturday. The Manchester gridders play the longest season of any Ohio team, closing their schedule Dec. 2.

A squad of 28 turned out for the first practice at Wooster, including eight lettermen. Failure of four lettermen and several reservists to return to school put a damper on the Scots' hopes for the season.

Coach Sam Selby at Westerville declared all positions on the Otterbein team wide open. His squad of 26 includes eight lettermen.

EDWARDS SEES BRIGHT SEASON FOR RED CATS

Dayton Opener Expected To Be Toughest Game Of 1939 Campaign

CLEVELAND, Sept. 14.—Big Bill Edwards, without even crossing his pudgy fingers, figured today his Western Reserve footballers will capture three-fourths of their games this fall.

That means, some sports observers figure, that the sensational Red Cats have a good chance of turning in their fourth undefeated season in the last five campaigns.

"We're going to be tough," declared Edwards, the former Wittenberg college center.

"We'll give every team a good ball game, but how many we win is up to the boys."

Veteran Line
The club will have a veteran line averaging more than 200 pounds, and a backfield expected to make even the most stolid Reserve fan kiss his mother-in-law in the excitement.

Working at the University's practice field are 21 lettermen, three other carry-overs and ten sophomores.

Reserve's toughest battle is expected to be its opener — against Dayton: here Sept. 30. The Flyers snapped a long Reserve winning streak two seasons ago and can expect the worst. So can Reserve.

"That's anybody's game," declared Coach Edwards. "We can win or lose by a touchdown."

On paper the pre-season guessers figure the Cleveland team is distinctly better than its other opponents, which are, in order, Ohio U., Boston U., Baldwin-Wallace, Cincinnati, Ohio Wesleyan, Kent State, John Carroll and Case.

There is a plethora of fine backs in camp, and the main losses from Ohio's only undefeated 1938 eleven are Al Litwak and Hike Rodak, backs, and Walt Reducha and Andy Saxton, linemen.

At the tailback is All-Ohio Johnny Rice, fleet Johnny Lucas and the veteran Ford Davis. Jim Riley, Steve Belchick and Dick Booth are the full backs. At the blocking post—nonnally quarterback—are husky Paul Anderson, a second-stringer last year, Carmen Izzo, Pittsburgh sophomore, and Julius Pickoff, 198-pound ex-line-man.

Wingbacks
The wingbacks are Senior Chuck Griffith, Junior George Wancata (both lettermen) and the shifty Sophomore Mickey Sanzotta.

The Red Cats have only four tough veteran ends and two sophomore flashes. Paul Hudson from Lima and Vic Wojcik of Meadville, Pa. Willis Waggle, Ed Krause, Ernie Eros and Gene Isaacs are the others.

Frank Crisci and Andy Logan, 225 and 220 pounds, are lettermen available at tackles, where five others are trying for jobs, including 200-pound Bob Vocal of East Liverpool.

Holcove Stan Miltko and Marcel Mylenki are having sophomore competition at the guard posts while Brady Sullivan, one of Ohio's best centers in 1938 is back with two juniors as his competition.

VETERANS WILL FILL FIVE POSTS IN SALEM'S LINE

QUAKERS NEED PAIR OF ENDS FOR 1939 TEAM

Battle For Wing Posts Is Toss-up, Coach Declares

A pair of cracker-jack ends is all that's needed to complete the forward wall of Coach Carl Schroeder's Salem High school football team which opens its 1939 season at Reilly stadium Friday night, Sept. 22, against Sebring.

Except for the wing posts, the Quakers' front wall is fairly well set. Veterans from last year's team are expected to fill the line from tackle to tackle.

Melvin Wukotich, a junior and win brother of the Quakers' pile driving fullback, Marvin Wukotich, will be back at the center post for the second year. At the start of pre-season practice Aug. 21 it was thought that Wukotich might be shifted into the backfield as a blocking back, but Schroeder has decided he is more valuable on the line.

Probable Guards

The guards will probably be Dick Beck and Carroll Green, both lettermen from the 1938 squad. Green has been tried in the backfield, but it is expected that he will remain at a guard where his speed and ability to pull out of the line quickly to run interference are an asset to the Quakers' running attack.

Beck, one of the heaviest players on the squad, was a tackle last year.

Joe Vender and Leonard Piersol too may be the likely choice for tackles because of their experience and their smashing brand of play. Both are big and rough. Vender was a mainstay in the Quakers' line last year and was named a tackle on the All-County team.

The fight for the end positions is a wide-open affair since the wing berths were left vacant by the graduation of Bill Schaeffer and Dick Terry, last season's regulars.

Bob Shoe, reserve center of last year, appears to have the inside track for one of the end positions, but he is being closely pressed in the fight by George Baillie, Elliott Hessel, Bud Walters and Art Chappell.

Schroeder considers the battle for the end positions a toss-up, and will probably name the two candidates who show up best in the final week of pre-season practice for the starting assignments.

Plenty of Reserves
Reserve material for the middle part of the line is not lacking, and several newcomers are giving the veterans a stiff fight for their positions.

Bob Malloy, Felix DiAntonio and Charles Tolp bidding for guard positions, have been showing up well in practice and may push one of the lettermen out of a steady job. Among strong contenders for tackle positions are Ward Zeller, Bob Ruffing and Jack Tinsley. The reserve center is Bob Umberger.

Regardless of its makeup, the Quakers' line this season is expected to average around 170 pounds in weight, making it one of the heaviest forward walls in the school's history.

LISBON OPENS FRIDAY NIGHT

County Seat Eleven To Invade Toronto For First Grid Game

LISBON, Sept. 14.—The Lisbon High Blue Devils open their fall gridiron campaign when they invade Toronto Friday night to battle the Red Knights of that city under the floodlights. The kick-off is scheduled for 8.

A large delegation of local followers is expected to witness the debut of the Blue and White eleven.

After three weeks of intensive practice the Lisbon team is shaping up well according to Coach Howard Ziemke, who expects to put a thoroughly capable eleven on the field in spite of the fact that there are only two lettermen around which to build this year's team.

The team although light, averaging about 145 pounds, as tentatively selected, has two rangy ends in Hendricks and A. Cartwright and rugged linemen in Culler and Hasbrouck, tackles, Rodi and Sutherland, guards, and Pilmer at center.

The backfield built around the veteran McGovern, who will direct the team's activities, includes a very promising linebacker in Bob McCaughn, and a couple of shifty halves in Paul Devan and Bob Pike.

First line replacements include Frankford and Stark, ends; Dixon and Cook, tackles; Walker and Harnahan, guards; R. McDevitt, center; H. Devan, quarter; Nick Rodi and J. Cartwright, halves, and Don Loch, fullback.

Six teams are entered in the recently-organized Owl Bowling league which will be in action each Tuesday night throughout the 1939-40 season at the Grate Recreation alleys. Matches will start each night at 8:45.

Entered in the league are the Du Pont Paints, the Trades Class, Grate V-8's, Sanitary Foundry, Sanitary

GENE THOMPSON GIVES SHOT IN ARM TO LEADER

His Pitching May Prove What Reds Need In Final Drive

BY JUDSON BAILEY

The best news Cincinnati has had since the Ohio river stopped rising during its last flood was the two-hit pitching performance just unfurled by Gene (Junior) Thompson.

Thompson shut out the Brooklyn Dodgers 3-0 yesterday for the first victory the Reds have negotiated in more than three weeks with any pitcher other than Bucky Walters and Paul Derringer.

A 21-year-old right-hander with four years of minor league experience, Thompson took part in a no-hit spring training game and otherwise proved his worth. However, he has been used as a relief agent most of the season and did not get his first starting call until July 19.

Troubles Solved

If he is now able to take a regular and effective turn on the mound, some of the Reds' troubles are solved. Both the singles he gave up yesterday came with two out, one was an infield bunt, and no Dodge reached second base.

The immediate effect of this triumph was to preserve Cincinnati's 3½ game lead over the tenacious St. Louis Cardinals, who nosed out the Phillies 10-9 by virtue of Ducky Medwick's two-run home run in the eighth. Cincinnati has 24 games to play.

The Chicago Cubs strengthened their grip on third with a 15-4 blast against the Boston Bees. Hank Leibler led the assault with two home runs.

The New York Giants split a doubleheader with the Pittsburgh Pirates, Harry Gumbert coming up with a spectacular two-hit contribution to take the opener 2-0 and the Buccaners bunting their hits in the nightcap to win 7-4.

Feller Gets 21st

Bobby Feller led the Cleveland Indians to a 9-4 decision over the World Champion Yankees for a sweep of the two-game series in getting his 21st victory. Feller had a shutout for eight innings and the outcome was never in doubt as the Tribe tromped on Red Ruffing early.

The Boston Red Sox took advantage of the opportunity to chop another nick in New York's American League lead by a 1-0 taming of the Detroit Tigers by four hits.

The Chicago White Sox, out of the pennant race, took both ends of a doubleheader from the Washington Senators on seven hit pitching jobs by Ted Lyons and Jack Knott. The first went 11 innings to a 3-1 score and the second was called at 4-2 in the eighth because of darkness.

The St. Louis Browns did an about face against the Philadelphia Athletics to win 11-3 on a 17-hit attack.

OHIO COLLEGE SEASON OPENS

Grid Campaign Starts Tonight With Game At Youngtown

(By Associated Press)

Ohio college football headquarters, the Ohio Athletic Conference, today announced that the season will be opened tonight with a game at Youngtown between the Ohio State Buckeyes and the University of Cincinnati.

The game will be played at the Youngtown stadium, which is being built for the 1940 season. The game will be the first of a series of games between the two teams.

The Red Cats have only four tough veteran ends and two sophomore flashes. Paul Hudson from Lima and Vic Wojcik of Meadville, Pa. Willis Waggle, Ed Krause, Ernie Eros and Gene Isaacs are the others.

Frank Crisci and Andy Logan, 225 and 220 pounds, are lettermen available at tackles, where five others are trying for jobs, including 200-pound Bob Vocia of East Liverpool.

Holdovers Stan Miltko and Marcel Mylenski are having sophomore competition at the guard posts while Brady Sullivan, one of Ohio's best centers in 1938 is back with two juniors as his competition.

Smith Outlines Program For High School Boys

Touch-Football Is Opening Feature In Extensive Year-Round Schedule Of Sports

(The following story is the work of Bob Dixon, a senior in Salem High school, who is combining his study of advanced journalism with practical experience on The News.)

BY BOB DIXON
Salem High school's intramural activities will get under way at Reilly field annex today when between 50 and 60 boys take their initial workout for the touch-football season.

The touch-football feature of the year's sports is for students who are not out for varsity football or for those who have failed to make the varsity. However, if any boy shows exceptional promise he will be promoted to the team if he wishes.

The touch game requires no equipment aside from old clothes and tennis shoes. A league is to be formed containing seven or eight teams. The teams are to be chosen next week.

Intramural activities are supervised by Lewis Smith, coordinator of athletics and dean of boys at the High school. During the last few years, under Smith's guiding hand, the program has grown to be one of the most thorough and extensive of any school in the entire state.

"Our plan in intramurals," Smith said, "is to provide each boy a chance to meet his own equal in the sport of his own choosing. The activities will continue until the end of the school year."

Also starting this week is a softball league among students who

Many Outstanding Golfers Eliminated From Amateur Play

By FRITZ HOWELL

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—No matter what happens today in the third and fourth round matches of the 43rd national amateur golf championship (and anything can happen in this one, it seems) you can lay it on the line that no favorites will be eliminated.

The reason? There are no favorites left!

A bunch of guys named "Joe" cut a wide swath through the field of 64 qualifiers yesterday, and the talent toll was terrific. Ushered to the sidelines in the most dazzling series of upsets in years were the defending champion; two others who had won the amateur; a former National Open king; the tourney medalist; a former British amateur champ; four former rulers of the public links, and four who have won the national collegiate laurels.

Eddie Meister, Jr., of Cleveland, the only surviving Ohioan, was paired against Don Sch

BOWLING RESULTS

The Columbiana Firestones, booster champions of the American Bowling Congress, started off their 1939-40 season in top form at the Grate Recreation alleys last night as they posted a 2703 total in the opening game of the Pastime league.

The Firestones' defending champions of the Pastime circuit, put together games of 881, 946 and 876, but, despite their splendid scores, they won only two of three games in their match with Eaton's Shell Service of Columbiana. The Eaton team hit 913 to win the first game of the match.

Cliff Bowling led the Firestones in chalking up their 2703 total with a 564 series. Earl Patterson had 560, Clarence Shortz, 555; George Hoover, 553, and Mark Klingensmith, 471.

Hoffmaster paced Eaton's and turned in the high individual series for the opening night, hitting 207, 295 and 169 for a 581 total.

Other matches, opening the Pastime league's 1939-40 season, saw Tyson's Service win three games from the Famous Dairy, the Columbiana Barons take two out of three games from the Salem Label Co., the Sohloans win three heats over Bosserts and Jr. C. of C. No. 1 post three wins over Jr. C. of C. No. 2.

DOUBLE BILLS FACING REDS

Cincy Meets Giants In Doubleheaders Today And Friday

CINCINNATI, Sept. 14.—Hot with two victories over Brooklyn, the Reds tackle New York in twin bills today and tomorrow with a single game Saturday to wind up the Giant series for the year.

The New Yorkers hold ten of the 16 games so far, but this is the stretch drive and if the Reds are to shake the St. Louis Cards they must shake the New York jinx as well. The Cards have a twin bill with the Dodgers today in St. Louis. The Giant sluggers face top-rank Paul Derringer, whose record against New York is three and three, and Johnny Niggeling today. Veteran Carl Hubbell and Bill Lohman, who has beaten the Reds four times this season, are the Giant pitchers.

Rookie Gene Thompson's two-hit 3 to 0 victory yesterday gave the Reds their first sweep of a Brooklyn series this year and a 12 to 10 edge for the year over the Dodgers.

Wally Berger's 12th home run and Bill Werber's two singles paced the Cincinnati attack for six hits off Hugh Casey and Tot Pressnell. Werber knocked in one run and scored another. His line single through the box in the first followed by a double to the left field corner by Ival Goodman, was the way it started.

INDIANS AFTER SECOND PLACE

Cleveland Hasn't Given Up Hope Of Copping Runner-up Spot

BOSTON, Sept. 14.—The Indians went into the opener of their three-game Boston series today six and a half games behind the second-place Red Sox, but they haven't given up yet on that longed-for desire for the runner-up spot.

Johnny Allen was slated to pitch in what generally was conceded as Cleveland's final bid to catch the Sox, but they haven't given up yet on that longed-for desire for the runner-up spot.

The Redskins arrived in a gala mood as a result of walloping the Yankees yesterday, 9 to 4, behind Bob Feller's seven-hit pitching. It was Feller's 21st victory and gave the tribe a record of five triumphs in 11 games at New York this year.

Bob blanked the Yanks with three hits for the first eight innings. Red Ruffing, who now shares the most-victory lead with Feller, was the victim, being pounded for eight hits and six runs in six innings. Spurgeon Chandler gave up the final three runs in the seventh.

The victory cost the Indians the services of big Hal Trosky for about a week. He suffered a badly sprained ankle in a base-line collision with Joe DiMaggio.

All Help to Dig Trenches in Warsaw Defense

—International Illustrated News Cablephoto

Men and women, boys and girls, equipped with shovels, march through the city of Warsaw, Polish besieged capital, to help dig trenches for the defense of the city. This photo was passed by the censor and was cabled to the United States from London.

Court News

New Cases
Raymond W. Sharp vs Mary Sharp, Sarah Smith and Walter Smith of Wayne township; action to declare deed a mortgage, and for partition.
John Herbert Fulum Salem vs Gladys Mount Fulum; action for divorce, on charges of gross neglect.
Emerson S. Hewitt vs Nell Hewitt, Lansing, Mich.; action for divorce, on grounds of wilful absence.

Probate Court
James G. Stevenson, Lisbon, appointed administrator of the estate of Mary Jane Fassett, Wells-ville.
CAPETOWN, South Africa — Threatened with bubonic plague, Capetown is seeking a piper to take away or destroy the hordes of black rats which are overrunning the city. When health authorities succeeded in exterminating the brown rats, they did not realize that in so doing they were removing the natural enemies of the black rats—the carriers of plague.

ADELAIDE, Australia—The Adelaide Racing Club is experimenting with a robot that shouts "Go" at the start of a race. It is the invention of E. T. Booth of this city, who invented Nuffield iron lung and the Booth electro-cardiograph. The invention is intended to synchronize the starter's voice and the lifting of the gates.

MONTREAL — To all outward appearances, Abel Bergeron, a Montreal street car motorman, was a man of small means. He went in an occasional movie, lived in a cheap flat and did not dress expensively. Recently Bergeron died. Then came the startling discovery that he had left an estate of $215,000.

TROPICS CALLED NO FOOD SOURCE

Wide - Spread Belief Is False, According To College Head

NEW YORK — The widespread belief that tropic lands can supply the rest of the world with an abundant food supply is false, according to Dr. Nels A. Bengtson, of the University of Nebraska, who is at Columbia University for the summer.

Equatorial districts, heavily covered with jungle, are agriculturally inferior to fertile prairies, Bengtson said. The only tropic land which potentially is a good food producer is that situated on stream banks and in coastal districts, he said, while uplands generally have poor soils because of excess drainage caused by heavy rainfall.

In nearly all parts of the world, forest soil is inferior to plains soil, Bengtson said. "In the first place, the constant moist condition of the former causes the natural salts in the ground, necessary for successful farming, to drain away. The comparative dryness of plains soil prevents this from happening to such a large extent. Then, too, the top-soil is seldom as deep in forests as it is on prairies."

Bengtson said one of the main causes of drainage in forest areas was the rotting of tree roots which leaves "a pathway" for moisture and air.

Another aspect which would retard tearing down of the jungles, Bengtson said, was the mixed growth of trees which would make lumbering unprofitable.

"In the northern latitudes one tree is usually predominant in each wooded district, for example: pine, spruce, hemlock, maple or oak," he said. "In the tropics, however, you have to cut through numerous trees of no value whatever to reach one that can be used. The very richness of the growth defeats the end."

Plantations in the tropics, said Bengtson, have been profitable in growing coconuts, bananas and rubber and have raised the standard of living for the natives.

"The standard of living of the natives is invariably raised whenever a plantation is established," he said. "Relatively too much attention has been paid to the so-called exploitation of native labor. Whether or not the higher health standards, cleaner living conditions and increased earning power makes the native any happier from an absolute standpoint is a moot question."

"In the northern latitudes one tree is usually predominant in each wooded district; for example: pine, spruce, hemlock, maple or oak," he said. "In the tropics, however, you have to cut through numerous trees of no value whatever to reach one that can be used. The very richness of the growth defeats the end."

Plantations in the tropics, said Bengtson, have been profitable in growing coconuts, bananas and rubber and have raised the standard of living for the natives.

"The standard of living of the natives is invariably raised whenever a plantation is established," he said. "Relatively too much attention has been paid to the so-called exploitation of native labor. Whether or not the higher health standards, cleaner living conditions and increased earning power makes the native any happier from an absolute standpoint is a moot question."

"THERE'S ALWAYS TOMORROW"

CHAPTER XXX

"I don't understand." The hostess understood perfectly—or thought she did. But she wanted Cassie to come right out in the open about her mysterious friend, with gossiping Teddy a witness in the revelations.

But Cassie seemed dumb Tongued. There was a fierce loyalty in Cassie. Harriet Brewster sensed it. She ordered a fresh magnum of champagne.

Cassie was excited about the pending chance in the new musical, she wanted to be gay. Expand. She drank.

The idea was to get in with these powerful Society people!

Dimly, she was presently aware that Miss Brewster was displaying a marked interest in Toni, who had once shared her little flat off Broadway, and of whom she had been extremely fond until Herman arrived to make trouble between them.

Cassie heard her own voice relate their first meeting.

"Say, that kid sure has nerve! She came round to the stage-door during rehearsal and sent in her card to me, claiming she knew my mother back in Cincinnati! Can you beat it?"

"Wasn't it true?"

"True my foot! Toni's a sharp one, for all she looks as though butter wouldn't melt in her mouth!"

It was not said maliciously, but with the natural admiration of one gamlin' for another.

"And she never knew your mother at all?" queried Teddy Lester.

He was enjoying himself immensely, for now he sensed all the undercurrents of this situation.

"Sure she didn't. The kid was down and out. She wanted a job, she was smart."

"Where did she really come from?" asked Harriet quietly, replenishing Cassie's glass.

"From California."

"Then, egad!" said Teddy Lester. "She isn't French at all? That's just part of her act?"

"Sure it is!" said the now befuddled Cassie, beaming. "You've got to hand it to her, she's a smart one! She knows French well, so she and Niklas must've put their heads together, and put over the 'Marquise' stunt!"

Teddy let out a prolonged: "Ha, ha, ha!"

"Don't you dare laugh at her," cried Cassie on the defensive, "ever since she stayed with me when I got her first job on Broadway I've been fond of Toni Goddard! I tell you they don't come any better!"

Harriet said soothingly: "I'm sure of it."

"And so you are really going to Niklas country place for the weekend?" retorted Guy.

"I have no alternative," said Toni. She added, hoping: "Can you suggest one?"

Oh, that he would ask her to give up her rehearsals, and take her away from it all!

A dream? He was looking at her with cold disapproval. There was no love-light in his handsome dark eyes.

And yet he cared enough for her to be concerned how and where she spent her weekends. That was funny!

"As an alternative, why not go back to your people, my dear girl?"

Then he doubted the whole fabrication of Madame la Marquise?

"I have nowhere to go to. Nor am I as fortunate as you. I have to work for my money."

"You are sure that you do?"

He was thinking of the shabby, trembling little creature who had thrust a sheaf of bills under Toni's chair at the night club.

Payment for something? Obviously—yes. She had been supplied.

Toni naturally jumped to the conclusion that he was referring to an affair with Niklas.

"How dare you say that?"

"I dare say a very great deal. One of these days I'll have a mind to. And, then, Miss Antoinette," he deliberately dropped the title—"you'll be surprised."

Under her resentment was the painful longing for that declaration. Did he by any chance mean that he loved her? That he was jealous?

At cross purposes, they wrangled.

"Six of us are going. We'll be rehearsing most of Sunday for the Pastoral Fete that's to take place on New Year's Eve. You understand?"

"Not in the least. You could rehearse in the club. Niklas cannot command your time and services out of business hours."

"Niklas," she retorted, "is a very thoughtful person. He says I'm overworked and jumpy. After that affair out riding—the attack of those men—then the lamp crashing at the club and barely missing me—he says I need a complete change. I think it is very kind of him. I've been so upset and everything."

"I'm afraid you're going to be a great deal more upset before you're finished with Niklas, my dear girl."

She glared at him. Why was he so antagonistic?

"I'm free, white, and twenty-one. I can do as I choose."

"Then don't blame me for what-ever happens. I've warned you. You're playing with fire."

Again she misunderstood. He was jealous of Niklas!

At noon next day, she and Lola Marquise, with Lola's dancing partner and three other entertainers, were driven by Niklas' chauffeur in his big car to his country place in Westchester.

It was a sparkling, frosty Saturday, very close to Christmas.

The house was set far back from the road, surrounded by a network of shrubbery.

Tonight—so they might have a breath—there would be substitute entertainers in the Chateau de la Marquise.

Niklas would arrive at his country home at dawn. He never neglected his business.

With one of the young male dancers who was to participate in the coming fete, Toni took a long afternoon ramble.

It was beautiful here, but lonely. And there was something, she felt on returning to it in the darkness, somewhat spooky about the house!

She went to bed early. She was healthily tired.

On the point of dozing off—(she had a night-light burning)—she saw the door-knob slowly turn. She called out: "Who's there?"

Silence. The door was locked. She had taken that precaution. The knob moved slowly back.

No noise. Had it been a ghost? Her own over-wrought imagination?

Toni fell sound asleep.

Niklas awaited them at breakfast in affable mood. All through that Sunday afternoon and well into the evening, they rehearsed the new show for the Chateau de la Marquise.

It was late when Toni got to bed. But she was sleepless. Thinking of last night's experience—the door knob turning—her nerves were so tensed that she decided to investigate all cupboards and doors in her bedroom.

If anyone should hide there? Who was it that had tried to force entrance last night?

Perhaps the queer, half-mad Lola?

No one was secreted in the cupboards. But she contrived to pull open a queer little door set in a panel of one wall. It had passed unnoticed until now. It led into a low-roofed passage! How odd!

Thought Toni.

Despite her nervous tremors, she was now intrigued. It was a regular Christmas story: Old haunted house with secret passages!

She got a candle and lit it.

Steeping low to avoid knocking her head on the beams, she half crawled down the passage, which gradually widened as she reached some steps.

Down! Down!

A tunnel under the gardens! she thought. How strange!

Came a strong draught of air. Her candle blew out. She stopped in her tracks.

Came a strong draught of air. Her candle blew out. She stopped in her tracks.

For a queer sound was behind

her—as of someone breathing in the darkness—padding feet close—

"Who's there?"

She had called that out last night—and again now—

Came a horrible chuckling laugh. It had a familiar ring.

"Lola! You're going to get what's coming to you! Ha ha, ha!"

A blinding light was flashed into her face. Mad eyes glared at her. There was the gleam of a revolver, followed by a thunderous report.

Lola was mad. She was insane! In that horrible moment before she fired at Toni, her intended victim knew it. Knew she was trapped in this subterranean passage with a madwoman!

Yet, in that swift, desperate encounter, Toni kept her head.

Lola's flashlight, showing the gleam of the pistol in her raised hand, gave Toni the fraction of a second that enabled her to duck. The shot went wild.

Swiftly Toni lunged at Lola. With loud clatter, revolver and flashlight were knocked against the wall.

Then Toni, in the blackness, turned and ran. Heart bursting, she prayed wordlessly. Racing feet reverberated in the long cavern. This was life or death!

If anyone should hide there? Who was it that had tried to force entrance last night?

Perhaps the queer, half-mad Lola?

No one was secreted in the cupboards. But she contrived to pull open a queer little door set in a panel of one wall. It had passed unnoticed until now. It led into a low-roofed passage! How odd!

Thought Toni.

Despite her nervous tremors, she was now intrigued. It was a regular Christmas story: Old haunted house with secret passages!

She got a candle and lit it.

Snooping low to avoid knocking her head on the beams, she half crawled down the passage, which gradually widened as she reached some steps.

Down! Down!

A tunnel under the gardens! she thought. How strange!

Came a strong draught of air. Her candle blew out. She stopped in her tracks.

Came a strong draught of air. Her candle blew out. She stopped in her tracks.

For a queer sound was behind

her—as of someone breathing in the darkness—padding feet close—

"Who's there?"

She had called that out last night—and again now—

Came a horrible chuckling laugh. It had a familiar ring.

"Lola! You're going to get what's coming to you! Ha, ha, ha!"

A blinding light was flashed into her face. Mad eyes glared at her. There was the gleam of a revolver, followed by a thunderous report.

Lola was mad. She was insane! In that horrible moment before she fired at Toni, her intended victim knew it. Knew she was trapped in this subterranean passage with a madwoman!

Yet, in that swift, desperate encounter, Toni kept her head.

Lola's flashlight, showing the gleam of the pistol in her raised hand, gave Toni the fraction of a second that enabled her to duck.

The shot went wild.

Swiftly Toni lunged at Lola.

With loud clatter, revolver and flashlight were knocked against the wall.

Then Toni, in the blackness, turned and ran. Heart bursting, she prayed wordlessly. Racing feet reverberated in the long cavern. This was life or death!

ELYRIA—Drivers of dilapidated automobiles aren't venturing out much since Sheriff Carl R. Finegan started a drive to junk "jalopies."

The sheriff's method has been effective. He stops the car and informs the driver that he will be arrested for reckless operation unless he junks his car immediately.

ONE OF THE GREATEST SMALL FARM BARGAINS WE HAVE EVER OFFERED

This fruit farm of 10 1/2 acres is located on Damascus road about 4 miles from Salem. Most of land is in fine young orchard, including trees of all varieties. This orchard is just at an age where the trees will grow into greater value every year. Has good 10-room house under slate, improved with both gas and electric. Good, small bank barn, also under slate.

The location of this comfortable suburban home makes it possible for the owner to market most of his fruit and vegetables right at the road. For a quick sale he will include a sow and six pigs, one Jersey cow, about 125 chickens, one acre of field corn, two acres of soy beans, sprouting outfit, cultivator, 100 apple crates, battery brooder, extension ladder and many other small tools. The price for the farm and all above equipment is only $5,500. This is a bargain you cannot afford to miss!

THE GUMPS—ANDY LANDS IN SOLID WITH THE GANG

BRINGING UP FATHER

POLLY AND HER PALS

SALMON CATCH WILL BE LARGE

International Fishing
Complications Headed
For Peace

JUNEAU, Alaska—Salmon and international relations—two touchy points insofar as most Alaskan fishermen are concerned—seem headed for a season for comparative peace.

Since 80 per cent of Alaskan revenue comes from fish, residents of the far north hope that the 1939 season, which has just started, will bring no disturbances such as occurred last year when Capt. Roy Shields of the Sophie Christiansen went a-gunning for Japanese fishermen.

If last year's catch is any criterion, the 1939 haul should provide ample cause for cheer in Alaskan fishing circles.

Since 1935, the annual catch has risen from 272,000 cases to 1,848,000 in 1938.

The unusually low figure in 1935 was a result of the Federal government's program in conserving fish life. The Alaskan fishing industry revolves on a five-year cycle, with the result that 1940 probably will bring another restricted year.

Must Work Fast

It is a case of "making hay while the sun shines" to most Alaska fishermen.

The Japanese question promised little trouble. Since 1937 the Washington and Tokyo governments have been operating on an informal agreement whereby the Oriental fishermen may operate in Alaskan waters for crabs.

Prior to June 1 there were a few complaints from American fishermen that Japanese "mother boats" to which were attached strings of smaller boats—were catching salmon in the Bristol bay area.

The U. S. bureau of fisheries, however, contemplated no trouble this year, although it promised American fishermen that all complaints would be "carefully investigated."

Japanese Watch Step

Net result to date has been a clean bill of health for the Japanese boats.

American ships were later in getting away this year because of labor difficulties. The wage agreements are now on a temporary basis.

It was considered likely that at the end of the season—in late summer—an industry-wide election will be called, possibly by the National Labor Relations Board.

In such an election, the workers will be asked whether they want bargaining on an industry-wide basis. The problems of bargaining by either CIO or AFL groups will then remain for settlement.

SALMON CATCH WILL BE LARGE

International Fishing
Complications Headed
For Peace

JUNEAU, Alaska—Salmon and international relations—two touchy points insofar as most Alaskan fishermen are concerned—seem headed for a season of comparative peace.

Since 80 per cent of Alaskan revenue comes from fish, residents of the far north hope that the 1939 season, which has just started, will bring no disturbances such as occurred last year when Capt. Roy Shields of the Sophie Christiansen went a-gunning for Japanese fishermen.

If last year's catch is any criterion, the 1939 haul should provide ample cause for cheer in Alaskan fishing circles.

Since 1935, the annual catch has risen from 272,000 cases to 1,848,000 in 1938.

The unusually low figure in 1935 was a result of the Federal government's program in conserving fish life. The Alaskan fishing industry revolves on a five-year cycle with the result that 1940 probably will bring another restricted year.

Must Work Fast

It is a case of "making hay while the sun shines" to most Alaska fishermen.

The Japanese question promised little trouble. Since 1937 the Washington and Tokyo governments have been operating on an informal agreement whereby the Oriental fishermen may operate in Alaskan waters for crabs.

Prior to June 1 there were a few complaints from American fishermen that Japanese "mother boats" to which were attached strings of smaller boats—were catching salmon in the Bristol Bay area.

The U. S. bureau of fisheries, however, contemplated no trouble this year, although it promised American fishermen that all complaints would be "carefully investigated."

Japanese Watch Step

Net result to date has been a clean bill of health for the Japanese boats.

American ships were later in getting away this year because of labor difficulties. The wage agreements are now on a temporary basis.

It was considered likely that at the end of the season—in late summer—an industry-wide election will be called, possibly by the National Labor Relations Board.

In such an election, the workers will be asked whether they want bargaining on an industry-wide basis. The problems of bargaining by either CIO or AFL groups will then remain for settlement.
